

Valuable Prizes Will Be Awarded At Last Session Of Cooking School Tonight

"Food should be fun to cook, fun to serve, and fun to eat," Miss Ann Norman told her audience Wednesday evening at the second session of The Gettysburg Times cooking school, held in conjunction with the National Live Stock and Meat Board, and in cooperation with the Metropolitan Edison Company and the participating merchants. The home economist stated, "There are enough different meat cuts to have a different meat dish every day for a year," and cautioned against getting into a rut by serving the same routine dishes week after week. "We all have our favorite meat recipes, but it is important to have variety in the meals we serve to our families."

More than 1,150 attended Wednesday evening's all-electric school in the Gettysburg Junior High School Auditorium. The last session will be held this evening, and at the close of this session the major prizes will be awarded.

Miss Norman, assisted by Miss Sandra Sime, first prepared a French style leg of lamb; this is a meat purchase that will provide two or three meals from one purchase; meal number one being the lamb chops, number two the roast lamb, and number three a lamb ragout or stew.

CITES DIFFERENCES

The difference between the French style and American style of leg of lamb was pointed out, with the kind being determined by the place where the butcher makes the break in the leg joint when he markets it. This meat was placed on a rack, fat side up, and a meat thermometer used to take out all the guesswork as to when it was properly done. She demonstrated the preparation of the ruffe to be placed over the exposed bone before serving, and suggested the use of colored paper to match the color of the vegetables to be served with it. A currant sauce was prepared, which could be used either as a glaze, or served at the table with the meat in place of the more familiar mint jelly.

A varied method of serving a boned rump pot-roast was used in preparing Beef Neapolitan. Garlic, parsley, basil, oregano, onions, tomatoes, and mushrooms are added to the meat to give a completely new flavor; Miss Norman recommended the use of the freeze-dried mushrooms, another of our convenience foods, although canned mushrooms are also effective. This meat dish is served with spaghetti.

STORING MEAT

"Fresh meats should be stored loosely covered or uncovered," the audience was told. "This will enhance the browning and the keeping qualities of the meat itself. One secret of successful meat cookery is to cook meat at a low to moderate temperature. It takes a farmer 18 months to produce a good cut of meat, but a housewife can ruin it in 18 minutes."

TEN SEMINARS WILL BE HELD AT HOSPITAL

Ten weekly seminars for Lutheran Seminars have been scheduled by Warner Hospital authorities and Prof. Francis Reinberger, seminary chaplain and professor of practical theology and will be held at the hospital this semester. Hospital staff members will present two-hour lectures to seminarians enrolled in clinical pastoral education.

Donald Wagner, comptroller at the hospital, met with seminarians the past two Monday afternoons to orient the students with the institution. Dr. Harrison F. Harbach will discuss "The Doctor-Patient Relationship" Monday afternoon.

Mrs. Josephine Delp, superintendent of nursing, will lecture on "The Team Concept in Nursing Care" October 5, and the students will visit Brook Lane Farm, near Hagerstown, the following Monday afternoon. Dr. Roy W. Gifford will discuss "The Doctor Looks at the Minister" October 26.

Dr. Bruce N. Wolff will discuss "Specialist Relationships" November 2, and Dr. C. Harold Johnson will lecture on "Terminal Illnesses" the following week. Local ministers who have volunteered for chaplain service at the hospital are invited to attend the seminars, according to Rev. Henry R. Early, chairman, Warner Hospital chaplains committee of the Adams County pastoral fellowship.

STOCKS MIXED

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market slipped irregularly lower early this afternoon but low lines still plugged ahead. Trading was fairly active.

Profit-taking sent many recent gainers into declines. Strength in airlines, based on the booming traffic figures for August, resulted in fractional gains for leaders in the group.

Judges for the competition were George Inskip, assistant county superintendent of schools; C. P. Keefe, former county school superintendent, and Mr. Lighter. The competition was sponsored by the Adams County FFA Activities Association of which Cecil

Methodists Will Meet Here Monday

Officials from the Methodist churches in the area will gather at the Gettysburg Methodist Church Monday evening for a group First Quarterly Conference. Representatives from the Bendersville, Hanover, Littlestown, York Springs and Gettysburg churches will attend. Dr. Edgar A. Henry, superintendent for the Harrisburg District, will preside at the conference which begins at 7:30 p.m.

First Quarterly Conferences are held in Methodist churches to consider local church apportionments from the annual conference, establish goals in evangelism for the church year and hear progress reports on work done since the June conference. Dr. Henry will also speak concerning a number of conference-wide projects now underway within the Central Pennsylvania annual conference.

The local Methodist Church will receive new members at Sunday's service. It is also Rally Day in the Church School.

SAW BOY NEARBY

Shook said another teen-ager told of seeing young Staller in the woodland clearing where the body was found. Taken in for questioning, Staller denied he had seen Jean that day, although police said they were told he had been seen giving the child a bicycle ride.

EISENHOWER, SEN. SCOTT TO ATTEND RALLY

At the meeting of the executive committee of the Adams County Republicans held at their W. Middle St. headquarters Wednesday evening, county chairman, Clark E. Spence announced that Senator Hugh M. Scott will be the main speaker at the annual Republican fund-raising dinner to be held at the Gettysburg College dining hall Oct. 12 at 8 p.m., and that General and Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower had accepted invitations to attend. He said General Eisenhower also will speak. The tickets will be $10 each and will be mailed to all county workers.

James R. Feather, action committee chairman, who was made an ex-officio member of the committee, urged the members to complete their block level organization and be prepared to present their lists at the next meeting.

Mrs. Richard Brendle, vice chairman, reported that coffee parties for the candidate will be set up. She also requested volunteers to help the Women's Council address envelopes for the pre-election mailings.

DISTRICT MEETINGS

Chairman Spence announced the following schedule of district meetings for all committeemen, workers, haulers, state workers and action committee: District No. 1, Harry Good, chairman, Oct. 6; No. 2, Donald Walter, Oct. 6; No. 3, James Strickhouser, Oct. 8; No. 4, John Lantz, Oct. 13; No. 5, Mrs. Guyon E. Buehler, Oct. 14; No. 6, A. W. Butterfield, Oct. 15; No. 7, Glenn Tuckey and No. 8, Frederick Koonz, Oct. 21; No. 9, E. C. Lerew, Oct. 23; No. 10, Mrs. Clark Frey, Oct. 28; No. 11, Gerald Nace and No. 12, Chauncey Smith, Oct. 29. All meetings are to be scheduled for 7:30 p.m. and when the places are set the county chairman is to be notified. Spence and his vice chairman and the co-chairmen of the action committee will be present. These will be the last full meetings before the general election.

Posters, literature, bumper strips, pins, etc., are available at the headquarters office, 48 W. Middle St., which is open each day from 4 to 6 p.m. and some evenings. The next meeting of the executive committee will be held October 22. Nineteen members attended Wednesday evening's meeting.

FAIRFIELD FFA DISPLAY IS 1ST PRIZE WINNER

The display of the Fairfield Future Farmers of America chapter in the Fairfield National Bank won first prize in the FFA Window Display contest, according to an announcement at the annual Adams-Franklin Area FFA leadership training school held at Biglerville High School this afternoon with 140 present.

Area Agricultural Education Superintendent Richard C. Lighter said the display of the Gettysburg FFA in the Adams County National Bank on Lincoln Square took second honors; Bermudian Springs FFA display in the Smith Meat Market and General Store, York Springs, was third; the New Oxford FFA display in the Myers' Hardware Store on the square in New Oxford was fourth and the display of the Biglerville FFA in the Biglerville branch of the Gettysburg National Bank was fifth.

Judges for the competition were George Inskip, assistant county superintendent of schools; C. P. Keefe, former county school superintendent, and Mr. Lighter. The competition was sponsored by the Adams County FFA Activities Association of which Cecil

$1,400 Collision At Intersection

Damage totaled $1,400 when two vehicles collided Wednesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at the intersection of the Gettysburg-Fairfield and the Knoxlyn Rds.

State police said Verna Marie Geyer, 37, Cashtown, was seeking to make a left turn into the Knoxlyn Rd. when a tractor-trailer operated by James E. Brown, 23, Fairfield R. 1 struck the rear of her vehicle.

Damage was estimated at $600 to the tractor-trailer and $800 to the car.

Truck Loses Load On Town Street

The blackout on York St. and Lincoln Square had a "talcum powder complexion" Wednesday evening at 5 o'clock after a truck-trailer owned by Appalachian Stone Division of Martin Marietta Corporation, Mercersburg, had passed over the area.

According to the borough police report, Ralph Rockwell, Mercersburg R. 3, driver of the truck, told them that the tailgate of the trailer had apparently opened at the traffic light on York St. and from there to the first meter on Chambersburg St. a trail of stone dust fell from the vehicle. Before the driver and others were able to get the tail gate shut, the stone dust was a foot deep on Chambersburg St. where the vehicle had halted. Borough Engineer LeRoy H. Winebrenner was notified to have borough workmen clean the roadway and send the bill to Appalachian Stone.

YOUTH JAILED

Donald W. Boles, 20, Chambersburg, was arrested Wednesday by Constable Oliver Sanders on a morals charge filed before Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder. He was later released on bail.

POSTS $500 BAIL

Thomas M. McKenney, 132 York St., has posted $500 bail before Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder to appear for court on a nonsupport charge brought against him by Alma K. McKenney.

HERE AND THERE

Six adult leaders for two Cadette Girl Scout troops are needed immediately if the troops expect to continue in existence, Mrs. Glenn L. Harner, organizer for the Gettysburg area, said today.

There are sufficient girls who wish to continue in Scouting at the Seventh, Eighth and Ninth Grade level but they lack adult leaders and Girl Scout officials have been unable to secure volunteers for this work.

Mrs. Harner has called a meeting for 8:00 o'clock Monday night at the West Street bank to which she has invited parents of girls to attend and be prepared to assist in the Girl Scout program. She has also issued an appeal to others who may be interested in the Girl Scout program to attend the session.

If six adult leaders are secured the two troops will continue. If not, in all probability, they will be abandoned.

The Cerebral Palsy program in Adams County is an effort to meet the needs of severely handicapped children whose impairments, both physical and mental, may exclude them from other existing programs, school participation or workshop enterprises. The program is based on the belief that all children have a claim to dignity as individual human beings.

Markle Returns From Convention

Clyde H. Markle, president of the Gettysburg Kiwanis Club, and Mrs. Markle, Harrisburg Rd., returned home Wednesday after attending the 47th annual Pennsylvania District convention of Kiwanis International at the Hilton Hotel in Pittsburgh. The convention opened last Sunday.

Sander Vanocur, NBC news correspondent, was the banquet speaker Monday evening. District officers elected Wednesday morning included: District governor, Eugene E. Fike, Uniontown; governor-elect, Carlos F. Bodwell, Harrisburg, and treasurer, D. L. Bowers, Avonworth. About 1,000 clubmen and their wives from 230 clubs in the state attended.

Brush Fire Blazes Out Of Control In Mansion-Packed Suburbs Of Santa Barbara

By ROBERT COOKE

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (AP)—Frightened people hurried from their homes early today as fingers of flame from a raging brushfire moved into the outskirts of this besieged town.

Pushed by 40-mile-an-hour winds, one front on the fire line extended below the foothill road boundary and was moving into the city.

Observers said firemen were making a stand at each house threatened, but that the winds keep pushing the fire onward. Cement - delivery trucks have been pressed into service as water carriers.

U.S. Forest Service officials also reported that a second fire broke out early today in the nearby San Marcos Pass area. Equipment was being rushed to the scene.

BURN 16,500 ACRES

By dawn, the blaze had charred more than 16,500 acres

CHERRY PRICE ADJUSTED BY MUSSELMAN'S

Musselman Division, Pet Milk Company, Biglerville, today announced an adjustment in the 1964 cherry price to 5 1/4 cents per lb. for 95 per cent grade on the company's regular graduated scale. Checks and verification statements are being distributed to all growers who qualify in Pennsylvania, West Virginia and Michigan.

Five and one quarter cents per lb. at 95 per cent grade was Musselman's opening price which held until July 15. As harvest got under way in Michigan, Wisconsin and New York, the bumper crop predictions were actually substantiated and the market on finished products reflected the surplus. In line with competition Musselman had guaranteed only 3 1/2 cents from this point on.

INFORMS GROWERS

In a letter to cherry growers announcing the price adjustment, John A. Hauser, division president, stated, "This payment again fulfills our traditional policy of returning to growers a fair price for all commodities — governed by a sound, practical marketing program on finished products." He added that, "In the case of this cherry payment, however, there still remains for us a good deal of uncertainty and risk as to the final outcome."

DR. BRYAN TO GIVE 2 TALKS TO EDUCATORS

Dr. Herbert E. Bryan, New Oxford, director of the Bureau of School District Organization in the state Department of Public Instruction, will go to Atlantic City Sunday to participate in the National Conference on Rural Education.

The conference, which will conclude on Wednesday, will be sponsored by the Department of Rural Education of the National Education Association. The department is observing its 100th anniversary this year.

Dr. Bryan will deliver two addresses during the conference and will serve as a resource consultant during one of the workshop sessions.

On Tuesday afternoon he will speak on "School District Reorganization" at a special interest session at the conference and on Wednesday he will talk on "The Status of the Intermediate Unit" at a conference of county and intermediate superintendents. On Tuesday he will also serve as consultant for a workshop in vocational-technical education.

The National Conference of County and Intermediate Superintendents will be held concurrently with the Rural Education conference. The conferences will draw educators from all 50 states and will review progress in rural education since the 1944 White House conference on rural education. Pennsylvania's Act 463, passed in 1963, the Area Vocational-Technical School Act, is one outgrowth of the White House Conference of 20 years ago.

BIRTH ANNOUNCEMENTS

FIRE DESTROYS CABINET SHOP IN UPPER END; $18,000 LOSS

The cabinet shop of Robert Deatrack along the Gettysburg-Carlisle Highway near the Aspers-Bendersville Rd. intersection was completely destroyed by fire early this morning. Firemen estimated the loss at $18,000.

Bendersville firemen were summoned to the scene and called in Aspers and Biglerville firemen to assist when the fire was reported from a number of sources at 3:15 this morning.

An attendant at Pitzer's Trucking Terminal first saw the flames at the cabinet shop about a quarter mile away. He called the Quick Call Center here.

MOTORIST AROUSES FAMILY

At about that same time, a passing motorist sounded his horn and awoke the Deatrack family. Mr. Deatrack ran from his home to the cabinet shop and succeeded in freeing a dog that had been penned in the rear of the shop, but was unable to save any equipment. The Deatracks also called for firemen but by that time the Bendersville fire siren had been sounded and the firemen were on their way.

Bendersville Fire Chief John Hoffman said the fire apparently started toward the front of the 25 by 60-foot one-story building, partially constructed of concrete block and partially of frame construction.

By the time Bendersville firemen arrived the fire was bursting out of the building. The firemen sought to enter by the rear of the building to throw water on the flames but Deatrack urged them to stay out of the structure because of about 100 gallons of varnish and shellac in the building, fearing that the firemen might be injured when the highly volatile substances ignited.

SHOP BEYOND SAVING

Minutes after Deatrack's warning, the shellac and paint caught first and "went up in a puff," according to the fire chief.

Firemen confined their efforts to preventing spread of the blaze to the Robert Thompson home on the one side of the cabinet shop and the Deatrack home, which contains also Dot's Beauty Salon of Mrs. Deatrack.

A dead calm help prevent spread of the fire, firemen said. Water was put on the side of the Deatrack home when it became "hot" from the heat of the blaze, in order to prevent spread of the flames.

Lost with the structure was all the machinery, lathes and equipment used there.

The loss was partially covered by insurance.

CHAPLAINS TO VISIT DAILY WITH PATIENTS

Protestant clergymen in the Gettysburg area and students from the Lutheran Seminary will cooperate in a chaplain program for patients at the Warner Hospital.

The "Chaplain of the Week" will serve from Sunday through Saturday and will be assisted by student chaplains under the supervision of Prof. Francis Reinberger, Seminary chaplain and professor of practical theology.

REGULAR VISITS

The purpose of the hospital chaplain program is to provide a regular visitation ministry to all Protestant patients the first day to determine whether the patient's personal pastor has been informed of their admittance to the hospital. The chaplain will contact the patient's pastor by telephone or card. All pastors in the county are invited to assist in the volunteer program.

The chaplain of the week will visit the hospital daily during his schedule and will be assisted by student chaplains.

The following schedule of chaplain service has been forwarded to local ministers:

Oct. 25-31, Rev. John Bishop; Nov. 1-7, Rev. Douglas Boden; Nov. 8-14, Rev. Ernest W. Brindle; Nov. 15-21, Rev. J. Weston Chambers; Nov. 22-28, Rev. Henry R. Early; Nov. 29-Dec. 5, Rev. Dr. Howard Fox; Dec. 6-12, Rev. Alfred Gotschall; Dec. 13-19, Rev. Donald Harper; Dec. 20-26, Rev. Mark Heiney; Dec. 27-Jan. 2, Rev. Ray E. Jones; Jan. 3-9, Rev. James J. Leshner; Jan. 10-16, Rev. Robert MacAskill; Jan. 17-23, Rev. and Mrs. Harold L. Myers; Jan. 24-30, Rev. Robert Paden; Jan. 31-Feb. 6, Rev. Lena Parr; Feb. 7-13, Rev. Benson Paul; Feb. 14-20, Rev. Dr. Paul L. Reaser; Feb. 21-27, Rev. Donald G. Roemer; Feb. 28-Mar. 6, Rev. Merlin G. Shull; Mar. 7-13, Rev. Donald H. Treese; Mar. 14-20, Rev. Norman Wilson; Mar. 21-27, Rev. Ronald Van Blargen; Mar. 28-April 3, Rev. William R. Jones; April 4-10, Rev. Otto Kroeger; April 11-17, Rev. John Witmer.

GEN. KHANH TO TRY TO QUELL NEW UPRISING

By MALCOLM W. BROWNE
BAN ME THUOT, Viet Nam (AP) — Maj. Gen. Nguyen Khanh flew to this mountain town today in a personal attempt to quell a still simmering rebellion by American-trained mountain tribesmen.

About 4,000 government troops and 12 artillery pieces were set up at the perimeter of the town to head off a possible onslaught by the heavily armed tribesmen as the caretaker premier arrived from Saigon.

The tribesmen revolted against his government last weekend and slaughtered lowland Vietnamese officers and soldiers at their camps. The death count still is not known, but may be as high as 50. About 50 other Vietnamese, including a provincial district chief, were seized as hostages.

The rebels, of a tribe called Rhade, temporarily seized the town radio station, then withdrew.

Wearing camouflaged uniforms and equipped with advanced weapons issued to them for fighting Communist Viet Cong guerrillas, the tribesmen maintained barricades around four of their camps in the Ban Me Thuot area and kept control over a key highway and bridge.

The only factor preventing a blood bath was a handful of U.S. Army Special Forces troops acting as intermediaries between the two sides.

A. S. WHISLER EXPIRES AT 85

Albert S. Whisler, 85, Gettysburg R. 6, died Wednesday afternoon at 2:25 o'clock.

A son of the late Henry and Esenia (Christie) Whisler, he had been a farmer in the Bonneauville area until his retirement, and was a member of St. Luke's Lutheran, near Littlestown.

His wife, the former Alverta Tawney, died nine years ago. Surviving are four children: Russell T. Whisler, Manassas, Va.; Mrs. Toney Clapper, Biglerville, and C. Glenn Whisler and Mrs. Gladys Hartlaub, both of Gettysburg R. 5; ten grandchildren, and 12 great-grandchildren.

Funeral services Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Little Funeral Home, Littlestown, with Rev. Mark A. Heiney officiating. Interment in Evergreen Cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home in Littlestown Friday evening. The family has asked that flowers be omitted.

UAW DEMANDS 40-HOUR WEEK IN GM PACT

By A. F. MAHAN

DETROIT (AP) — A guaranteed 40-hour workweek was a major demand of the United Auto Workers union as its new contract negotiations with General Motors Corp. entered the final 24-hour showdown today.

Neither side forecast agreement before a union-imposed strike deadline of 10 a.m. Friday. Neither ruled it out.

Pessimism, however, outweighed optimism as the two sides met for down-to-the-wire negotiations.

WANTS GUARANTEE

UAW President Walter Reuther disclosed Wednesday night that the union is asking General Motors to guarantee 40 hours pay for anyone called upon to report for a workweek.

He pointed out that the UAW had won a guarantee of 75 per cent of the normal straight-time wage for anyone called in for a workweek at Chrysler Corp. or Ford Motor Co., where the union has won new three-year contracts.

At Chrysler, the UAW gained earlier retirement and improvements in pensions and other fringe benefits. The union estimated the package worth 54 cents an hour over the next three years.

At Ford it added on top of these a Christmas bonus, possible in 1965 and ranging from $25 to $100.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics figures that the average hourly straight-time pay for the auto industry as a whole is $3.01.

The meeting was opened with a flag ceremony led by Sherry Rosenwald, flagbearer, Kathy Peach, guards, Nancy Jakes and Debbie Straup. Nancy Jakes was elected troop scribe and Brenda Seifert was elected troop treasurer. Bonnie Schultz reported on her experiences at Camp Furnace Hills, Betsy Neely

SENATE HOPES TO CLEAR DECK ON SUBSTITUTE

By ERNEST B. VACCARO

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate votes today on a compromise legislative reapportionment proposal with hopes for early adjournment of Congress riding on the outcome.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield offered the mild, nonbinding "sense of the Congress" proposal as a substitute for a stronger one which he previously sponsored jointly with Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen.

SURPRISE MOVE

In a surprise and dramatic move aimed at ending the long stalemate over the pending $3.3-billion foreign aid bill, Mansfield abandoned the Dirksen proposal and appealed to the Senate to support his substitute to help "bring down the curtain on the 88th Congress."

Dirksen disowned the compromise, but offered no objection when Mansfield won unanimous consent for a midafternoon roll call vote today.

Under the agreement an earlier test vote likely will come on a motion to table and thus kill the Mansfield amendment. Dirksen reserved the right to offer such a motion.

DELAYING ACTION

Off and on since Aug. 12, Democratic liberals have been conducting a filibuster against the Dirksen-Mansfield amendment designed to force the federal courts to delay Supreme Court-ordered reapportionment of both houses of state legislatures on a population basis.

It is pending as a proposed rider to the foreign aid bill, a vital part of President Johnson's legislative program.

The compromise would say it is the "sense of the Congress" that federal district courts, in carrying out Supreme Court orders, should:

1. Allow the legislatures the length of time provided for a regular session, plus 30 days, but not exceeding six months in all, to apportion representation in accordance with the Supreme Court ruling.

2. Permit the next election of members of state legislatures to be conducted in accordance with the state law in effect last Sunday.

3. Make the reapportionment themselves if the states fail to do so within the time granted for action.

BIDS EXCEED GSA APPROVAL

HARRISBURG (AP) — The General State Authority is holding for further study unofficial low bids on construction of an auditorium building at Scotland School for veterans' children in Franklin County.

The low bids, opened Wednesday, totaled $538,130, compared with the GSA allocation of $480,000.

The unofficial low bidders: General construction—Glinda Enterprises, Hummelstown, R. D. 2, $381,249; heating, ventilating and air conditioning—E. W. Pyles, McConnellsburg, $77,466; plumbing and drainage—Eshe-naurs, Inc., Harrisburg, $29,676; electrical—Edwin L. Heim Co., Harrisburg, $49,739.

The GSA also received $185,482 in unofficial low bids for construction of an auto mechanics vocational building at the school. These bids did not exceed the allocation.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — John T. Rowland, 61, known to college football fans as "Bo," died Wednesday in a Little Rock hospital. During his career as a coach, he had winning teams at the University of Oklahoma, Syracuse University, Henderson College, Arkadelphia, Ark., and Cornell.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Jennings J. Dunlap, 85, the only railroad worker not injured or killed in the famed wreck of the Old 97 in 1903, died Tuesday in Alexandria, Va. The Washington-Atlanta express left the tracks and plunged into a ravine, killing 11. Dunlap retired from railroad in 1941.

and Pamela Taylor reported on their experiences at Camp Sacajawea. Kathy Peach and Brenda Seifert each reported on their All-States experiences at Camp Shadowbrook, Conowingo, Md.

All patrol leaders of last year have been requested to return their patrol leader cards for use by patrol leaders. Each girl has been asked to bring her badge and badge sash to the meeting Wednesday evening for discussion and proper arrangement.

The Juliette Low Neighborhood will meet Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the Parish House of Zion Lutheran Church, Main St. The program will consist of a report of the Cadette patrol leaders who took in an All-States project, ideas on discussion topics, exchange of summer program experiences, and a preview of coming events.

CHERRY PRICE

Pennsylvania's cherry crop for 1964 was listed by U.S.D.A. at a record 17,000 tons, more than double last year's production. This is 60 per cent above the 5-year average. The state produces five to seven per cent of the total national crop annually.

Total production for all cherry producing states in the nation was listed at 240,750 tons, 40 per cent above the previous record crop produced in 1962. The crop in the heavier producing Great Lakes States turned out even greater than had been anticipated. It was almost 300 per cent greater than the short crop realized last year and 77 per cent above the five-year (1958-62) average.

WILL ASK LBJ FOR FIGURES ON M'CLOSKEY

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Rules Committee agreed today to ask President Johnson for access to the income tax returns of Philadelphia contractor Matthew McCloskey and others figuring in the reopened Bobby Baker investigation.

Chairman B. Everett Jordan, D-N.C., also disclosed that the committee's chief investigator, former FBI agent William E. Meehan, has interviewed McCloskey and said that McCloskey gave assurance that he would cooperate in the inquiry.

The reopening of the political explosive Baker case was ordered by the Senate two weeks ago after Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., charged McCloskey made a $35,000 kickback on the District of Columbia Stadium contract.

Williams quoted Don B. Reynolds, a local insurance agent, as telling him that $25,000 of this was channeled into the 1960 Kennedy-Johnson campaign fund through Baker, who since has resigned as secretary to the Senate's Democratic majority.

Jordan told newsmen after a closed meeting of the committee that he hoped to start public hearings next week, but he said this will depend on how quickly staff investigators "can get the facts."

No formal charge was made against him.

Shook said Staller in the written statement said he accidentally pushed Jean and she fell down striking her head on a stump. Thereupon he choked her, Shook said the statement read. Shook said the youngster was unable to give a reason for this.

The Staller boy, slightly built and blond with blue eyes, is a 9th grade pupil at Neshaminy Junior High School. He was described as a normal student, whose father died about 12 years ago. His aunt, Mrs. Lucille Haas, was his father's sister.

New Premier For Red East Germany

BERLIN (AP)—Willi Stoph, a former bricklayer and corporal in the Nazi army, today was named premier of Communist East Germany.

He also was named deputy to party boss Walter Ulbricht in the State Council, highest executive organ of East Germany.

Stoph, 50, succeeds Otto Grotewohl, who died of a stroke last Monday.

Stoph's appointment was announced by the official news agency ADN and came as no surprise. He had been acting premier since 1960, carrying out the job of Grotewohl, who had been ill for four years, reportedly with leukemia.

The line between what's right or wrong . . . is very thin indeed . . . and it is solely up to us . . . which side we choose to heed . . . oftentimes it's hard to ascertain . . . which path is right to take . . . for roads to hell are paved by those . . . who made one small mistake . . . so we must seek a guiding hand . . . so that we never stray . . . through constant prayer and faith in God . . . somehow we'll find the way . . . life is composed of pitfalls that . . . are camouflaged in good . . . and we will tumble into them . . . unless they're understood . . . we must beware of shady bends . . . that is if we're to win . . . the line between our grief and joy . . . is very, very thin.

Brush Fire

lege. The fire also swept into Montecito, where 20 more homes were reported burned.

SEEN FOR 90 MILES

Flames leaped hundreds of feet, reflecting off a towering lull of smoke. People saw the fire in Los Angeles, 98 miles southeast, and from ships 30 miles at sea.

In Santa Barbara itself — a community of 60,000 nestled between the sea and the Santa Ynez Mountains — it seemed like the hills were a mass of flame. The smoke-cloud glow lit a city in turmoil with milling evacuees and rushing fire engines.

The fire was the worst of five great blazes burning in California. Four others in the northern part of the state have burned 73,000 acres and 225 buildings, including farm structures.

HOWLING WIND

A howling Santa Ana wind — the wind which blows to sea from California's desert interior — set the Santa Barbara blaze racing for the city with dramatic suddenness at dusk Wednesday.

At 7 p.m., U.S. Forest Service men thought the fire was moving into the Santa Ynez Valley over the mountain ridge inland of the city. It was the second time the fire had moved away from Santa Barbara. Winds were mild, the temperature 74.

Then the Santa Ana — the "devil wind" of Western lore — hit. In eight minutes the mercury was at 90 degrees, the wind 50 m.p.h.

Miss Owens Goes To PR Workshop

Miss Sharon Owens, Gettysburg Junior High School art teacher, represented the Gettysburg branch of the Pennsylvania State Education Association at a public relations workshop held at the Penn-Harris Hotel last weekend. The conference theme was "The Spectrum of Public Relations."

Speakers included Joseph L. Davis, assistant superintendent of the schools of Columbus, O., and Jack Conmy, press secretary to Governor Scrantom. The importance of informing the public of the activities of teachers and the schools generally was discussed.

Miss Owens will present her workshop report to the branch's Public Relations Committee of which she is a member at its next meeting September 29 at 3:45 p.m. at the senior high school building. Mrs. Betty Weaver and Mrs. Dorothy Craver are co-chairmen of the committee.

McSherrystown Man In Hanover Crash

A small foreign-made automobile received about $300 damage at 7:53 a.m. Wednesday when it was in collision with a truck in Hanover.

The auto, driven by Michael R. Gouker, 18, Hanover, was moving east on Middle St., and the truck, driven by Paul H. Topper, 71 Main St., McSherrystown, was traveling south on Ridge Ave., Hanover police reported.

The truck carrying welding equipment, buckled the front end of the auto without causing damage to itself, police said. The truck is owned by J. J. Riley, Hanover.

Asks For Reports On Concert Drive

Volunteer solicitors for the Community Concert Association of Adams County were advised today by Mrs. Harold A. Dunkelberger, headquarters chairman, to report the results of the solicitations daily to headquarters in the Hotel Gettysburg lobby.

Mrs. Dunkelberger also advised that residents of the county who have not been contacted by solicitors may obtain membership reservations at headquarters daily through Saturday evening at 7 o'clock. Further information may be obtained by telephoning 334-4000.

TRAVEL FILM AT MAJESTIC

Full-length travelogues will return to the Majestic Theater Monday, October 5, with the showing of "The Grand Tour—Europe in Your Own Car," filmed by Burton Holmes Company. The film is in full color.

The Burton Holmes organization has been producing travelogues for the past 70 years. The films usually are shown on small screens to clubs. However, the company this year has joined with the Stanley-Warner Theaters to present the programs in full size theaters on giant screens to obtain the best possible presentation of the exciting films.

"The Grand Tour—Europe in Your Own Car" was photographed by Andre de la Varre, internationally-known Holmes photographer. He has served also as travel photographer for Warner Brothers, United Artists, Columbia and MGM and has won a string of Academy Awards for his travel-camera work. "The Grand Tour" was made this summer and editing was completed in August.

Tickets are on sale now at the theater box office at $1.50 for the evening performance and $1 for the matinee at 2 o'clock.

Ushers for the models were Leonard Epp and J. Shreve Johnson, members of the Alpha Chi Rho fraternity at Gettysburg College.

Prof. Harry F. Bolich, of the Gettysburg College faculty, played organ selections during the show. The fashions were selected and the showing arranged by Mrs. Shirley Dessen, owner of Tobey's of Gettysburg.

Hang Portrait Of Dr. W. Waltemyer

A life-size portrait in color of Dr. William C. Waltemyer has recently been placed for permanent display in Glattfelder Hall, adjacent to the department of Biblical literature and religion. The portrait, which was given to the college by the Waltemyer family, was presented by friends and colleagues to Dr. Waltemyer in 1960 on the occasion of his retirement as professor emeritus.

Dr. Waltemyer served as professor and head of the department of Biblical literature and religion at Gettysburg College from 1929 to 1960. He and his wife have continued to reside in Gettysburg and take an active interest in college and other affairs in the community.

REINDOLLAR RITES HELD

Funeral services for Mrs. John J. Reindollar, who died Monday morning at her home in Fairfield, were held Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at Zion Lutheran Church in Fairfield with the Rev. Otto Kroeger and the Rev. Robert Paden officiating. Interment was made in the Fairfield Union Cemetery. Seven brothers served as pallbearers, the Rev. Ivan Naugle, George W. Fred T. Clifford, Arthur, Ira and Wendel Naugle.

OHLEF SERVICES TODAY

Funeral services for Lloyd G. Ohler, 76, well-known resident of Emmitsburg, who died Monday evening at his home there, were held this afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Toms Creek Methodist Church with interment in Mountainview Cemetery at Emmitsburg. The Rev. Martin Case and the Rev. Mr. Graham officiated. The pallbearers were Maurice Moser, John Baumgardner, Floyd Moser, Andrew Keilholtz, Robert Grimes and Elmer Fuss.

SOVIET REJECTS FINANCE PLAN

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The Soviet Union has rejected a U.S. proposal for the creation of a standing U.N. finance committee to apportion assessments among member nations for peacekeeping operations.

Soviet delegate Viktor F. Ulanchev told the General Assembly's 21-nation working group on peacekeeping finances Wednesday that the proposal was a device to circumvent the Security Council's powers.

The plan called for the committee to originate all financial arrangements for peacekeeping operations. The committee's recommendations would require approval by a two-thirds majority vote of the assembly.

People In The News

NEW YORK (AP) — Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson made a quick and quiet trip to New York City Wednesday to shop for winter suits.

It was learned that she looked at clothes brought to her suite in the Carlyle Hotel and bought some suits before taking a shuttle flight back to Washington.

LONDON (AP) — Judy Garland, 41-year-old singer, is reported "quite well" at the Harley Street Nursing Home where she was taken with stomach pains.

GOP Charters Jet For Reporters

WICHITA, Kan. (AP) — A second jet airliner has been chartered for Sen. Barry Goldwater's Republican presidential campaign.

Press secretary Paul F. Wagner said Wednesday night the United Airlines Boeing 727 will accommodate the overflow of reporters and staff members from Goldwater's jet, which has room for 54 newsmen and 20 staff members.

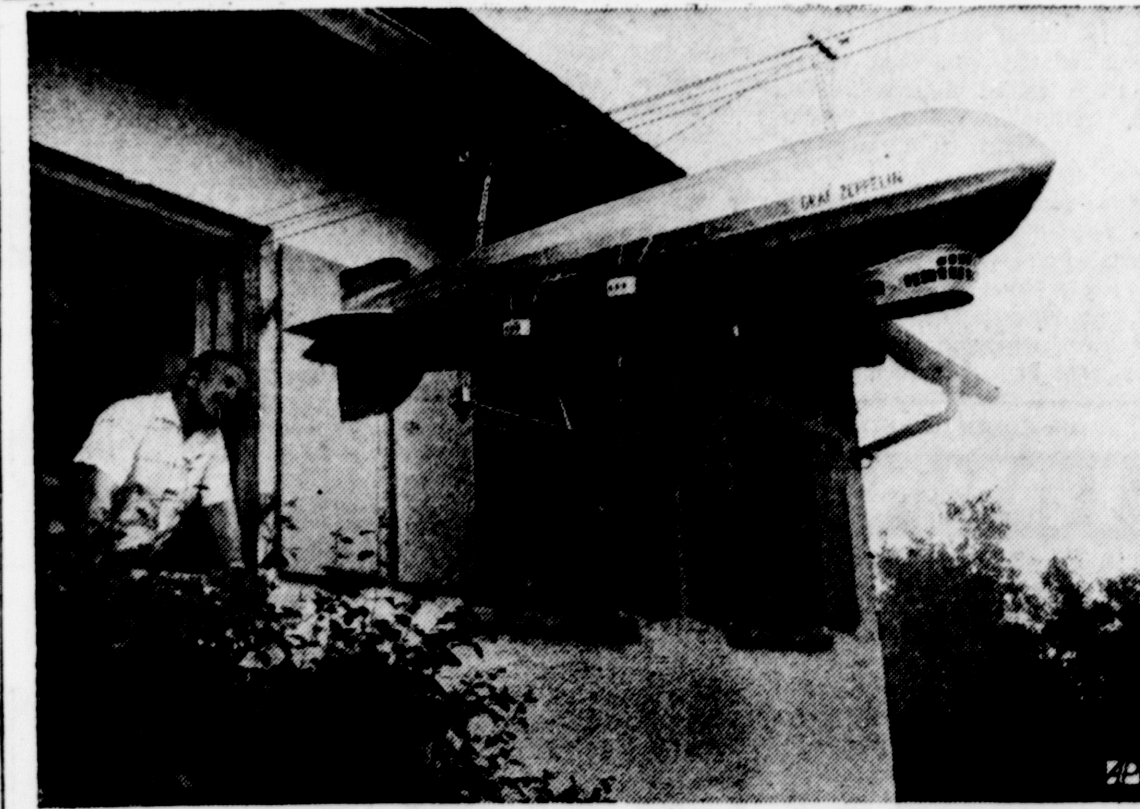

A Convair propeller-driven plane had been used as the back-up craft, but it couldn't keep up with Goldwater's American Airlines 727 jet and had to skip some of his appearances.

Homemakers' Tour Set For October 7

The fall tour for Adams County homemakers will be conducted October 7 to view the area of the upper Susquehanna River and Pocono region "where fall foliage will be at the height of its beauty." Mrs. Helen Tunison, county extension home economist, said today.

Cost of the tour, for the bus fare and lunch, will be $4.75. The bus will leave from the old county home Wednesday morning at 7 a.m.

The tour will include a visit to a furniture factory at Lewisburg, a smorgasbord lunch at Bloomsburg, a visit to a wholesale greenhouse and a visit to the Magee Museum.

Mrs. Tunison said reservations for the trip must be made at the extension office, 111 Baltimore St., by October 2.

The Barlow Homemakers met recently at the home of Mrs. Frank Shriver, Gettysburg R. 1, with 17 members present to outline the winter program, which will include a tour October 7.

Mrs. Dorothy Waybright and Mrs. Pauling Yingling presented a demonstration on "Lines and Design." A skit on the selection of dresses was given by Mrs. Mervin Benner, Mrs. Viola Harner, Mrs. Leila Wolf and Mrs. Ira Henderson. Mrs. Sheila P. Arnold, newly-appointed assistant home economist, was introduced to the group by Mrs. Helen D. Tunison.

The October meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Sadie Almonsey, Littlestown.

Hold Harvest Home Service On Sunday

The harvest home service and baptism will be held at 10:45 o'clock Sunday morning in Holy Trinity Church, York Springs.

The food contributed will be given to the Lutheran Home for the Aged in York. The financial gifts contributed will be sent to the Washington home. Those wishing to make contributions of food are asked to bring them on or before Saturday at 5:30 p.m.

During the service the sacrament of baptism of infants will be celebrated.

During last Sunday's service the following new members were received into membership: Col. and Mrs. Frederick P. Weidner, Mrs. Donald Leer, Charlotte, Margaret, Daniel and Patricia Leer, Z. T. McVey and Miss Vivian Brungard.

Next Sunday the congregation will celebrate the sacrament of Holy Communion at the 8:30 and 10:45 a.m. services.

Provide Clothing For Fashion Show

Clothing from the Thomas Brothers Country Store, Biglerville, was featured at a fashion show held at the luncheon Wednesday opening the fall season of the Frederick Women's Civic Club. Mrs. C. William Harbaugh, Biglerville, gave the commentary for the show.

The show was held at the Steiner House in Frederick, an old mansion which the club is restoring and furnishing as a community project.

Models for the show included Mrs. William Stultz, Mrs. Harry Lucas, Mrs. Charles Murray, Mrs. Paul Sunday, Mrs. Albert Scott, Mrs. Robert Crothers, Mrs. Carl Espeland, Mrs. William Wallace, Mrs. Brooke Parkinson and Mrs. Phillip Wetheimer.

INVITE TRIPS THRU COUNTY ON OCTOBER 11

Adams County's orchard owners are again inviting the general public to "Come to Adams County: Glorious Orchard Land," October 11.

In a brochure prepared by the Adams County Fruitgrowers Association for distribution throughout the area, the growers note: "Apples and autumn leaves make October your favorite time in Adams County." Visitors are encouraged to bring "your family and their appetite for apples. Bring your camera and your color film. Come see how big the apple business is."

The brochure noted that "Adams County, Pennsylvania, is the apple land of the east. 18,000 acres of orchards are located here, only a few miles from famous Gettysburg, in the most concentrated fruit plantings east of the Rocky Mountains. Each year nearly 4 million bushels of apples from Adams County go to the markets of the world.

"The sunny slopes of the South Mountains are rich with color in October. The reds and golds of autumn are a gorgeous background for the bountiful harvest of fine quality fruit."

According to the brochure 50 orchard markets and roadside stands will be filled with home grown fruits for the "Harvest Holiday" and guided tours of the orchards will be available at the fruit stands.

SOLONS HOPE CONGRESS MAY ADJOURN SOON

WASHINGTON (AP) — For some of the country's top-ranking commuters, the end of a strenuous and expensive period may be in sight.

These commuters are members of both houses of Congress who have been trying to campaign for re-election at home and also maintain a proper attendance record on Capitol Hill.

Their hopes were high today that the Senate may be nearing a settlement of the reapportionment dispute that has stalled adjournment.

EYE CAMPAIN

They can now expect to come back to Washington once more — for a burst of work that could wind up the session next week — and then go back to the hom5 grounds for intensive speech-making and hand-shaking until Nov. 3.

Congress had hoped to adjourn before the Republican National Convention in July, or at least before the Democratic convention in August. Instead, it found itself still meeting, still with an unfinished backlog of work, late in September — long after the traditional opening period for the campaigns that involve all seats in the House, one-third of those in the Senate.

SOME NOT HURT

Some members, with little or no opposition, could stay in Washington with no great hardship, even if they would rather be at home; some confined their campaigning to long weekends, but many left for protracted tours in the districts.

The double life, legislating in Washington and campaigning at home, runs into money — especially if home is across the country. Members are reimbursed for three round trips a year; the cost of further shuttling is on them.

The Senate had to adjourn abruptly three times last week, and the House once, when someone forced a quorum call on what had been billed as a quiet day. There just wasn't a majority of members on hand.

Final plans for formation of a Senior Citizens' Group will be discussed October 12 by residents or retirement age and representatives of the Jaycettes and the Carroll County YMCA, sponsors of the group. A meeting Monday evening in Trinity Lutheran Church was attended by 23 persons who heard Richard Kelly, YMCA director, and Mrs. Barbara Baumgardner, Jaycettes president, outline plans for the formation of a club. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Thelma Nuhbaum, Mrs. Jo Ann Dougherty and Mrs. Carleen Skiles.

Frank W. Mather Jr., new principal of the junior-senior high school, told members of the Chamber of Commerce Monday evening that one of the most serious problems facing school administrators is that of keeping potential dropouts interested in completing their educations. During the brief business meeting the following slate of officers was presented: President, Frank Dunham; first vice president, Neal W. Powell; second vice president, Paul M. Morelock; secretary, Donald M. Smith; treasurer, Murray Baumgardner; executive committee, Mervyn Fuss and Charles Arnold.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

London — Massive forces of British Army and airborne troops straddled the lower Rhine in Holland five miles from Germany in position for a great new invasion of the Reich around the upper end of the Siegfried line.

Moscow — A massive Baltic drive, first phase of a supreme Russian autumn offensive, rolled the Germans back steadily over the Latvian front, immediately menacing Riga and threatening to bring its fall at any moment. Front dispatches said advance tanks and motorized infantry units had pushed deep into the city's defenses. The official communiqué announced an approach to within six miles as the Red Army edged in from three sides and brought artillery to bear.

Allied Headquarters, New Guinea — The first big raid of the Philippines since the twin invasion of Morotai and the Palau indicated the battle of the approaches has roared into a new phase in the south. To the east, one of the two islands in the Palau virtually was conquered and unofficially reports from the invasion scene placed the other on the point of falling.

Today's Talk

ONE DAY AT A TIME

Too many people try to live two or three days at once. The result is that they end with incomplete days, that is, days in which little has been accomplished, and with a confused mind thrown in.

Our abilities may be whipped to extremes, but if they do not merge, each supplementing the other, there is confusion, and time is consumed needlessly. We need to learn to appreciate the value of a single hour. Napoleon once said that the reason why he beat the Austrians was that they did not know "the value of five minutes." It is also said of this same Napoleon that the reason he lost Waterloo was because he did not start the battle soon enough.

Life's achievements are a matter of the use of time. One day at a time is all that is portioned out to us. It's an equal gift to us all. If we worry about it, our mind immediately clouds up, and our efficiency is lowered. We can only make the most of each hour and pack it full! Live each new day as if it were to be your last.

To make this one day at a time the most productive we must learn to concentrate upon but one thing at a time, and seek to do that one job better than it has ever been done before. Then we can happily pass to the next job, or to the next step ahead.

We cannot afford to clutter up these precious days with past regrets, or with moanings as to mistakes and failures. One day at a time is all that we have to work with. If we can season our lives with many a touch of beauty, many a good deed performed or many a task conscientiously worked out successfully, then we should end the day with at least a good measure of satisfaction.

To live but one day at a time is not an easy assignment, but nothing in life is actually easy, if it is worth while. I believe it was Emerson who wrote: "Write it in your heart that every day is the best day in the year. No man has learned anything rightly until he knows that every day is Doomsday."

First Meeting Is Held By Scouters

Senior Girl Scout Troop 1063 held the first meeting of the season Wednesday evening at the Community Center. Mrs. James H. Spalding, leader, supervised.

It was announced that troop members wishing to participate in the Arts and Crafts Club sponsored bus trip to Washington, D. C., on Saturday, October 10, should contact Mrs. John F. Feaser Jr. as soon as possible.

1965 Girl Scout calendars are being sold by the troop for 35 cents each. Insurance dues, of 55 cents for each girl, will be received in October. It was decided to meet Mondays at 7 p.m. beginning September 28. The girls are requested to return the "Parents Interest Check List" at the next meeting.

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Wray Carlton, veteran running back, has been placed on the injured waiver list by the Buffalo Bills of the American Football League.

S/Sgt. John T. (Pike) Miller, who had been missing in action since July 2, has been declared a German prisoner, his brother has been advised. He was a gunner on a B-24 based with the 15th AAF in Italy.

Littlestown News

RESIGNS AFTER 19 YEARS AS POLICEMAN

Littlestown borough council at a long session Tuesday night accepted the resignation of E. Paul Bigelow as a part-time police officer and learned from Mayor Earl Stites that Alpha Fire Company police will no longer be available for duty at public functions in the community because of an interpretation of an amendment to the fire police act.

Bigelow's resignation came after he had served the town for 19 years as a special police officer. The safety committee was authorized to fill Bigelow's position. Other council action included authorization to allow $10 for expenses of a policeman who attended a crowd control demonstration by the state police at Hershey in August and the motion to adjourn which came seven minutes before midnight.

LENGTHY DISCUSSION

One subject discussed for nearly an hour concerned a section of an ordinance which, as Council President Howard Myers said, hinders growth of development sections of in the community.

Council presently has an ordinance which puts a five-year limit on refunds contractors may obtain from the borough for any sewer connection in a development. Myers said he felt this was unfair to builders because Littlestown does not grow that fast and the eventual cost of the sewer line is passed on to the person who buys the property. Two other councilmen concurred but indicated one of the reasons for the time limit is to induce contractors to build and develop more rapidly.

Stewart Long noted that the complete ordinance book should be given a housecleaning and updated. He said too many loopholes exist in ordinances which no longer have any value or bearing on conditions of today.

SPARKS DAMAGE PROPERTY

Samuel Higinbotham, chairman of the street committee, reported that reconstruction of Cemetery St. should be started Wednesday. He said equipment was to have been moved in Tuesday since the gas company had finished installing and replacing its lines.

The safety committee was instructed to confer with the fire chief and Littlestown Foundry about sparks flying from its plant and damaging nearby property. Walter Myers said he had received a complaint and after the fire chief had investigated, the chief determined that it was hot metal which had burned holes in a resident's picnic table.

A special committee was named to confer with the American Legion Ambulance Committee regarding procedures when the ambulance is used. It was noted that on several occasions, the ambulance has "disappeared" from its parking place without thorough officials knowing where it is for a period of time. Council felt that anytime the ambulance leaves its regular parking place, it should be reported in case another emergency call would be received.

TO SECURE SIGNS

Council was told that nothing had been done about a drain condition behind the Esso station because officials have been waiting for Borough Engineer LeRoy H. Winebrenner to suggest a proper solution.

Council also decided to use pegs and cement to insure that street signs could not be turned around. It was noted that several signs along E. King St., are backward.

Council noted that James Shomper had "quit" as sewage plant operator and only one application had been received for the job. Discussion on increasing the pay of the operator led to the conclusion that if an experienced man is hired, he would have to be given more money.

HEAR MHF LETTER

It was noted that the sewer plant is one of the bigger investments of the town and unless men are trained properly for the job, substantial difficulty could be forthcoming from inexperienced operators.

Two former operators were suggested but both prospects had indicated they would want a higher salary than $3,600 a year. Council decided to meet at an executive session to determine if they want to pay more and how

Jaycees Will Aid Olympic Fund

The Littlestown Junior Chamber of Commerce will receive a collection for the U. S. Olympic Team Fund at half time at the local high school football game on Friday evening on Littlestown Memorial Field. The Jaycee chapters of the nation are co-operating to raise one million dollars for the fund. The collection was previously planned for two weeks ago but was postponed due to rain.

The Jaycees will sponsor a dance on Saturday night at the Holiday Hotel ballroom, Gettysburg. Music will be provided by the hotel band. A special award of the evening will be a color television set. Arrangements are in charge of Clyde W. Crouse, C. Robert Orndorff and Thomas R. Gouker.

President S. Kenneth Ogg announced that the chapter board will meet on Tuesday, at 8 p.m. at the Community Center. The held October 13 in the chapter room at the Center.

The Jaycees had a stag party on Tuesday evening at the Littlestown Fish and Game club house, near town. Entertainment and refreshments were enjoyed.

Miss Myers Given Bridal Shower

A bridal shower in honor of Miss Patricia Kay Myers, E. Myrtle St., was held Sunday afternoon at the home of Miss Janice Evans, Prince St. Mrs. Kenneth Lemmon, Camp Hill, and Miss Evans were hostesses. Gifts were opened and displayed by the bride-to-be. Game prizes were received by Mrs. E. A. Rebert and Mrs. Robert W. Hall.

The hostesses served refreshments to Miss Myers, Mrs. Preston L. Myers, Mrs. Robert Gladhill and daughter, Jean, Mrs. Paul Morehead and daughter, Kay, Miss Nancy Yingling, Mrs. John R. Rudisill and daughter, Marianne, Mrs. Robert Hall and daughters, Roxanne and Jolie, Mrs. E. A. ## Arrest Negroes Under New Law Prohibiting Violence

McCOMB, Miss. (AP) — An undisclosed number of Negroes have been arrested in this racially tense area on warrants charging them with "criminal syndicalism" — a new state law prohibiting unlawful acts to bring about a political or social change.

A bomb was hurled Wednesday night at the home of a former Negro city police officer who was enroute to Washington to talk to the U.S. Civil Rights Commission and the Justice Department.

PADDLES JAM ON SATELLITE

WASHINGTON (AP) — The pace agency reports that a jamming of the solar paddles has halted operations of the Nimbus weather satellite after it had taken more than 27,000 pictures.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration said Wednesday that the jamming prevented the paddles from rotating toward the sun and this, in turn, halted use of solar power to recharge batteries that operated Nimbus' electronic equipment.

The anticipated life of the satellite, launched Aug. 28, had been six months.

NASA reported that the Syncom 3 communications satellite, hovering above the Pacific in preparation for televising the Olympic Games to the United States from Japan, comes within five seconds of matching exactly the earth's rotational speed.

Says Chairman Wants Whitewash

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. George Meader, R-Mich., has accused Chairman Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., of the House Judiciary Committee of planning to whitewash the Justice Department instead of investigating it.

After the committee directed the investigation Tuesday over Celler's objection, the chairman issued a statement that the probe was intended only to air charges against the department by Teamsters Union President James R. Hoffa.

Hoffa has accused the department of harassing him and spying on him during his trial last year on jury-tampering charges. He was convicted and the case is now on appeal.

Warriors In First Home Game With Shippensburg; Hanover At Littlestown

Home games Friday evening for Gettysburg and Littlestown High Schools will lead off the area scholastic football schedule this weekend, three other county schools having Saturday afternoon engagements.

The Warriors of Gettysburg will meet Shippensburg in their initial home contest and a Blue Mountain League battle while Littlestown takes on unbeaten Hanover at Littlestown in a York County League scrap.

Saturday's games, all at 2 p.m., include Biglerville at Camp Hill in a BML game, James Buchanan at Bermudian Springs, and Delone Catholic at Waynesboro.

SHIPPENSBURG AT GETTYSBURG

If the Gettysburg High School Warriors hope to regain their pre-season rating as a contender for the 1964 Blue Mountain League championship they'll have to prove it with a victory over Shippensburg when they make their bow before a home audience for the first time this season.

That stunning upset at Boiling Springs last Saturday was a hard blow but the Warriors have recovered sufficiently to realize they can ill afford to take any game lightly.

Ronnie Plank, fullback, and Dick Finkbeiner, quarterback, who were injured in the Bubbler game, will not start Friday although the latter may see part-time duty. Plank is definitely out of the game.

Charley Raffensperger will take over the signal-calling duties with Craig Smith, center, and Dick Walker, end, serving as blocking backs in replacing Plank.

Two other Warriors, both of whom should be ready, are nursing injuries. Ron Newman, halfback, has a bruised hip and Tom Heflin, guard, has a knee injury.

Coach Don Young and his staff were disappointed with the attack shown last week and have concentrated on an improved offense this week. They anticipate another tough game with the Greyhounds.

Shippensburg, coached by Ron Lawhead, former Littlestown High mentor, is the oldest of the current Gettysburg opponents. The teams first met in 1920 and Gettysburg holds a wide edge with 24 victories, eight losses and five ties. Last year Shippensburg took an 18-7 decision.

Shippensburg topped Scotland 7-0 and lost to Northern by the same score in its two previous games.

The Hounds use a pro-type offense which should mean plenty of passing.

HANOVER AT LITTLESTOWN

This neighborhood York County clash could pack them in at Memorial Field. Hanover, which became a member of the league this year, is unbeaten in two starts while Littlestown has dropped two previous decisions.

Another headache was added to the problems of Coach Bill Heyser of the Thunderbolts when examination Tuesday revealed that Bruce Crouse, his left-handed quarterback, suffered a fractured right arm last Saturday at West York and will probably be lost for the rest of the season. There is slim chance that Jim Bittle, tackle, may be able to play part time against the Nighthawks.

Jim Blocher, a Senior, has been nominated to take over the quarterback slot with Tommy Fox, a Sophomore, as his understudy.

Despite losing a pair of 14-6 decisions, Littlestown feels it has a good chance of upsetting Hanover whose weight will be about par with that of the Bolts. West York outweighted the Bolts nearly 30 pounds per man last week.

Heyser is hoping for a dry field Friday night to get the full potential from his offense. In the two games played, Littlestown was forced to play in downpours.

Hanover has been impressive in turning back Kennard-Dale 27-12 and Spring Grove 19-0 and will undoubtedly be a severe test for the Bolts.

Steve Paden, starting his 10th season as Hanover coach, has 12 seasoned lettermen on his squad, all Seniors.

BIGLERVILLE AT CAMP HILL

Probably the happiest of area coaches last week was Jack Emanuel whose Biglerville Canners turned in a tremendous upset in topping Big Spring 13-7 through a superb all-out team effort.

Whether the Cannons can come up with another similar performance at Camp Hill Saturday remains to be seen. A win would definitely establish the Cannons as title aspirants.

Once again Biglerville will have to concede, a decided weight advantage to their opponents. They overcame that disadvantage against Camp Hill and hope to repeat against the Lions. Emanuel reports his squad came out of last week's game in good condition and that he contemplates no change in his lineup.

Camp Hill is 2-0 for the season with a 13-6 win over Susquehanna Twp. and a 6-0 squeaker over Susquehanna.

The Lions, another favorite for the BML title, have no less than 16 lettermen back from last season when they compiled a 7-2-1 mark.

Among the top returnees are Laurie Roberts and Dan Reed, a pair of fine backs, who must be stopped by Biglerville.

JAMES BUCHANAN AT BERMDIAN

This game brings together a pair of teams each seeking their initial victory after suffering losses in two previous engagements.

Bermudian has lost to Northern 18-0 and Juniata Joint 47-25 while Buchanan has bowed to Harper's Ferry 13-0 and Scotland 14-0.

Tom Shreiner will have about 17 boys suited for Saturday's contest. The squad was further depleted Tuesday when Lloyd Garman, Freshman guard, fell and sustained a fractured left arm.

Joe Lemmon, tackle, is expected to be kept out of action for at least another week while Reid McCauslin, fullback, is probably out for the season. On the bright side, Jim Jacobs, end, has resumed drills and may see limited duty.

DELONE AT WAYNESBORO

This contest also brings together two teams with identical 1-1 records. Delone bowed to Chambersburg before nipping Lebanon Catholic. Waynesboro won its opener over South Hagerstown 7-6 and then lost to powerful Frederick 13-0.

Coach J. T. Flaherty of the Squires said his team escaped any further injuries last week and with the exception of Captain Bob Wagner, guard, still sidelined, will have his full manpower for the Indians.

Flaherty was pleased with the improved defensive work of his squad against Lebanon and is hopeful the offense will pick up. He will use his regular lineup on Saturday.

Waynesboro is expected to provide stiff opposition. The Indians have a nucleus of nine lettermen on their squad.

NAMED SOCCER COACH

CARLISLE — David Eavenson has been named soccer coach at Dickinson College where for the past nine years he has been the athletic director and swimming coach, positions he will continue to serve. As soccer coach he succeeds Prof. Russell H. Hedden of the faculty who helped to revive soccer as a varsity sport at Dickinson last season after a lapse of 23 years. The team won one of its four matches.

Wednesday's Fights

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. — Joe Murchison, 141, Jacksonville, Fla., stopped Frank Holloway, 139, Miami, 4.

Stuebenville, Ohio — Cowboy Billy Smith, 111½, Steubenville, outpointed Ron DeCost, 112, Brockton, Mass., 15.

Two ball players who are being counted upon to help carry the Gettysburg College football team through to a successful season are a pair of former area high school players, Bob Furney and Tom Hardy. Both may see action at Bucknell Saturday.

Furney, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Furney, Sunset Ave., was an all-conference fullback at Gettysburg High School. The 6', 205-pound senior started at center last year for the Bullets but midway through the campaign sustained a knee injury which kept him out the remainder of the year. However, Coach Gene Haas has his big anchor man right back in the number spot for 1964.

Hardy, son of Mrs. Avis M. Hardy, Camp Hill, formerly of York Springs, has moved up the ladder quickly and is currently the Bullets' number two left end. Hardy missed last season, but Haas stated that he is in top shape and should rank high among the pass receivers. He is also expected to give the Gettysburg defense a boost. Hardy is a former end and quarterback for Bermudian Springs High School. He is 6'4" and tips the scales at 215.

Yanks Take Two More As Hopes Of Chisox, Birds Get Near Vanishing Point

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

There's Mickey Mantle and Roger Maris and Mel Stottlemyre and Pedro Ramos. All good reasons why the New York Yankees have taken an imposing four-game lead in the American League pennant race with only 10 games remaining.

But the Yankees may actually have started moving to the front of the pack when Yogi Berra stepped to the back of the bus.

That was the day the Yankee manager blew the whistle on Phil Linz and his harmonica playing, the discordant notes apparently resulting in a greater harmony that has carried the Yankees from 4½ games behind to four in front.

Another double sweep
Since Linz went "toot, toot" on his $2.50 mouthpiece, the Yankees have played .727 ball with 24 victories in 33 games, including the sweep of a doubleheader from Cleveland 4-3 in 11 innings and 6-4 Wednesday night.

And Linz, who hasn't played his harmonica since Aug. 20, figures to get his chance soon. He has made this promise: "If we clinch the pennant, I'll bring my harmonica into the dressing room and play a tune. The only notes I know now are 'Way Down Upon The Swanee River.'"

Lake Erie would be more fitting.

9-0 AT CLEVELAND
The doubleheader sweep against the Indians was the Yankees' second in two nights, gave them a 9-0 record at Cleveland this season and extended their latest winning streak to nine while lowering their magic pennant-clinching number to six.

Any combination of victories by the Yankees and losses by the runners-up will bring New York its fifth straight pennant.

HOPE ALMOST GONE
Baltimore and Chicago wound up the day tied for second place, the Orioles losing to Detroit 10-3 while the White Sox defeated the Los Angeles Angels 2-1.

Ramos, who came to the Yankees from Cleveland Sept. 6, came on in relief to nail down both victories against the Indians. He pitched the 11th inning of the opener without allowing a hit and checked the Indians on one hit over the final 12-3 innings of the nightcap while striking out four.

KEY BLOW BY HOWARD
Elston Howard stroked the key blow for the Yankees in the first game, a leadoff homer in the 11th. Howard also scored what turned out to be the decisive run in a three-run final inning uprisings in the second game, racing home as reliever Tommy John uncorked a wild pitch.

The Orioles, who led the league just a week ago, made three errors and also helped the Tigers along with two passed balls while Bill Freehan led the Detroit romp with two doubles and a single for four runs batted in.

The Tigers moved ahead to stay in the fourth with two runs on one hit. After a passed ball by Dick Brown put Tigers on second and third, Dick McAuliffe hit a sacrifice fly and George Thomas scored on a grounder.

The White Sox won it in the ninth when Gene Stephens singled and came all the way home on a single by Gary Peters as the ball got by outfielder Bob Perry. That tagged the loss on 19-game winner Dean Chance, who made his first relief appearance since May 17.

Chicago had scored the tying run in the eighth against Chance on a walk to Floyd Robinson and Pete Ward's double.

The Senators beat the Red Sox behind Don Loun's five-hit pitching in his major league debut. The only run of the game scored in the second inning on singles by Chuck Hinton and Joe Cunningham and a double play grounder.

Dave Boswell won his second major league start for the Twins with relief help after going into the ninth against the A's with a three-hit shutout.

BUCKNELL TO USE TWO QB'S VS. BULLETS

LEWISBURG — Bucknell opens its 1964 football season at home this Saturday against a tough Gettysburg team and the question mark in the starting lineup is not yet resolved. Two men, Bill Lerro and Bob Marks, are fighting for the starting quarterback position and the battle will probably go down to the wire.

Lerro, the Junior signal-caller from Philadelphia, has a year of varsity experience behind him. Last season he shared the duties with Don Rodgers, co-Most Valuable Player in the Middle Atlantic Conference. He is acknowledged to be a better passer than Marks, but lacks his rival's speed.

Harks, a Big "33" halfback out of Danville, Pa., gained recognition in high school as a runner and this is considered his chief asset. He played halfback on the Freshman squad last season and is still learning the new spot.

TWO PLATOONS
Regardless of who gains the starting berth, both men are expected to see a lot of action. Head Coach Bob Odell usually employs a two-platoon system, with each eleven playing about half the game.

With Lerro in at quarterback, the Bisons' passing attack will most likely be of the dropback variety, an offense which is new to Bucknell this year. Marks, with his good speed, will probably concentrate on roll-out patterns of the type used in the past.

Kickoff is due at 2 p.m. Opposing Bucknell will be a Bullet team which romped to a 27-7 victory over Hofstra last Saturday. Gettysburg has no quarter-back problems, with Junior Jim Ward leading the attack. Against Hofstra, Ward completed 9 of 17 passes for two touchdowns.

M'KINLEY AND RALSTON ARE EAGER TO WIN

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer
CLEVELAND (AP) — Chuck McKinley and Dennis Ralston have a special incentive in the Davis Cup Challenge Round this weekend — both admit it may be their last.

McKinley, 24, plans to abandon the international tennis circuit after this year and concentrate on a career in stocks and bonds. Ralston, 22, is seriously eying the pros.

"If we should lose the Davis Cup, I definitely wouldn't be available to go to Australia," McKinley, recent graduate of Trinity University in San Antonio, Tex., said today. "I wouldn't have time."

"I plan to go into business — the financial end of it, maybe Wall Street. I might play Wimbledon but I wouldn't take a month out of the summer to make the tour."

Ralston, 22 with another year to go at the University of Southern California, acknowledged that he was more than casually interested in joining the pros.

"I would like to win Wimbledon or our championship first, but that's not essential," he added. "If we won here and I got a good offer, I'd probably take it."

BEGIN ON FRIDAY
Ralston and McKinley, who wrested the cup from the Australians last year in Adelaide, will try to defend it in tennis world finals Friday, Saturday and Sunday on the green clay composition court of the Harold T. Clark Stadium.

They will play both singles and doubles against the heavily favored Australian tandem of Roy Emerson and Fred Stolle.

The draw was scheduled at 11 a.m. EST today at a midtown hotel, arranging pairings for the three-day, best-of-five match series.

PICK BISONS OVER BULLETS ON SATURDAY

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — First week's results: 18 - 1 for a healthy .947. With a record like that why say anything more, except, here are this weekend's winners:

West Chester over East Stroudsburg—Back in their own league, and West Chester does own it.

Penn over Lehigh—The Quakers can't be worse than last year—it says here.

Holy Cross over Villanova — Unless the Wildcats are a lot stronger than the Toledo game indicated.

PICK UCLANS
UCLA over Penn State—State is building, UCLA is built.

Brown over Lafayette — This could be the best Brown team in many, many years.

Pitt over Oregon—The Panthers will improve each week of the season.

Bucknell over Gettysburg — They say Bob O'Dell has come up with another passer.

Delaware over Hofstra — Get out the adding machine mother.

Juniata over Albright — Edge to the home team in a close one.

OTHER SELECTIONS
Skipping over the chalklines: Bloomsburg over Mansfield, Millersville over Kutztown, Slippery Rock over Edinboro, Indiana over Geneva, California over Lock Haven, Shepherd over Shippensburg, Clarion over Grove City, Howard over Cheyney, Wayne over Allegheny, Wooster over Carnegie Tech, John Carroll over W. & J., Westminster over West Virginia Wesleyan, Moravian over Delaware Valley, Muhlenberg over Dickinson, Drexel over Glassboro, Lebanon Valley over Lehigh, Case over Thiel.

WEDNESDAY'S STARS
By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
BATTING — Vada Pinson, Reds, hit two homers in two innings, the second a three-run shot in the seventh inning that broke a tie, powering second-place Cincinnati to a 6-4 victory over Philadelphia and to within 3½ games of the National League-leading Phillies.

PITCHING — Don Loun, Senators, won his major league debut, beating Boston 1-0 with a five-hit.

VISALIA, Calif. (AP)—Mickey Wright was slated to open defense of her Visalia Women's Open Golf title today as a field of 33 pros went after the $11,000 in prize money.

Miss Wright, who set money winning and scoring records for the Ladies Professional Golf Association last year, currently heads the 1964 list with $19,670 in official money and an average of 72.69 strokes per round.

Cincinnati Beats Phils Third In Row; Get Permission To Print World Series Tickets

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer
Can 63,000 Philadelphians be wrong?

Yes, say the Cincinnati Reds, and they're playing as if they mean it.

The charging Reds defeated the National League-leading Phillies 6-4 Wednesday night for the third straight time and moved to within 3½ games of the top. No one has been that close to Philadelphia since San Francisco was three games out Aug. 11.

The Phillies' fifth loss in their last six games came, ironically enough, on the day they began accepting orders for World Series tickets. Postmen delivered 18 sacks of mail holding more than 63,000 ticket requests.

JUSTICE STAYS 3-JUDGE RULE ON RIGHTS LAW

WASHINGTON (AP) — Justice Hugo L. Black of the Supreme Court has stayed enforcement of a ruling by a three-judge federal court that declared unconstitutional part of the new civil rights law.

The ruling involved a Birmingham, Ala., restaurant.

The high court plans to hear arguments on the case Oct. 5, immediately after hearing an Atlanta, Ga., case in which three federal judges upheld the constitutionality of the rights law's public accommodations section.

"It is an established rule of law that courts of equity will not exercise their power to enjoin enforcement of an Act of Congress except under the most imperative or exigent circumstances," Black said in granting the stay.

HEARING OCT. 5

He said he had been authorized by the five other judges here to say the court is willing to hear the case when it opens its fall session Oct. 5.

On Aug. 10, Black refused to block enforcement of the civil rights law in the Atlanta case.

The Birmingham case involves Ollie's Barbecue, a restaurant owned by Ollie McClung Sr. and his son, Ollie Jr. It is located several blocks from the nearest interstate travel.

The Atlanta case involves a motel owned by Moreton Rolleston and a restaurant owned by Lester Maddox which is located adjacent to an interstate highway and thus close to interstate commerce.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Peace Corps has awarded a $74,117 contract to Lincoln University, Chester County, Pa., to train 28 volunteers for work in Tanganyika, Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., announced today.

To Research On Monkey Business

WINNIPEG (AP) — A research team from the University of Manitoba has been given approval to conduct psychological tests on animals at Assiniboine Park Zoo.

The study, approved by the Metropolitan Winnipeg parks committee, is aimed at contributing to "the understanding of animal and human behavior."

Monkeys are to be a special subject for study.

One of the tests will be to deprive them of water for 24 hours. They will then be allowed to drink from one source while researchers check on how long it takes each monkey to finish drinking.

They hope to record which monkey shows leadership traits—by getting to the water supply first—and therefore which is the superior monkey.

Camera News

By IRVING DESFOR

Camera fans attending the 1964 New York International Photography Fair recently were confronted with a packed program in a three-ring circus of continuous activities. They could choose the spotlighted center stage with its schedule of entertainment, the Little Theater with its program of slide and movie shows or the Hall of Learning with its classes of instruction in assorted phases of photography.

There was a noticeable improvement in visibility and audibility for spectators with better illumination and public speaking set-ups than in previous years. The spotlights over the center stage were up higher and did not glare back into your camera lens when you aimed at the performers. There was even a special raised grandstand which gave camera toters a little extra advantage in height to shoot over the heads of the spectators around the ringside.

EXHIBITION AREA

Besides these three principal arenas of constant activity, there was an exhibition area which featured displays of fine photography from Germany, Great Britain, France, Switzerland, Japan, Israel and Poland. In addition, photogenic models posed in a variety of stage sets which never seemed to lack a quota of picture-taking camera fans.

For explanations and demonstrations of the latest in cameras, accessories and equipment, photo fans could go directly to the manufacturers' importers' or distributors' booths which are, of course, the backbone of every photographic fair.

KENNEDY ALBUM

I was particularly moved by the intimate glimpses of our late president's family life through the exhibition of photographs by Mark Shaw from the soon-to-be published book, "Kennedy Family Album." The warmth and tenderness of the candid family scenes show us that photographer Shaw was not only technically skillful and alert to catch the moments of peak expression but that he was discreet, unobtrusive and probably a silent observer. In none of the pictures is there any indication on the part of the subject of awareness of being photographed. It is a quality that camera fans might try to follow in shooting pictures of their own family or friends.

ROLLING BY—Ben Park is a newsboy who makes his Indianapolis neighborhood take notice as he makes his deliveries on a unicycle. He mastered the conveyance in a short time.

Among the lectures, one was an off-beat presentation by Martin and Pearl Tytell, a husband-wife team who use photograph to aid them in their unusual occupation of document sleuthing.

Besides regular photography and enormous enlargements, they make use of infrared and ultraviolet lights, a stereoscopic microscope for three-dimensional findings and specially ruled overlays which measure thousandths-of-an-inch differences in type-writer types.

LBJ'S FISCAL POLICIES HIT BY SCRANTON

TAMAQUA, Pa. (AP)—Gov. Scranton has sharply criticized the Democratic federal administration, while boosting the candidacy of Sen. Barry Goldwater, Republican presidential nominee.

The Republican governor hit hard at the Democratic administration on fiscal policy, federal-state governmental relationship and foreign policy.

In making the remarks, Scranton diverted from his text, prepared for a speech Wednesday night to some 1,500 persons at the Schuylkill County Republican Oldtimers dinner in near-by Barnesville.

LACK SOUND POLICY

The prepared text appealed to Pennsylvania voters to retain the General Assembly in Republican control come Election Day.

In out-of-text remarks, Scranton said:

"We need a sound national fiscal policy which we don't have in Washington today. The federal-state government relationship has got out of hand."

"Every day all governors get edicts from Washington which destroy the individual initiative of the states. Barry Goldwater advocates a return to the Eisenhower-Dulles foreign policy."

Scranton hit the Johnson Administration for its policies in Latin America, particularly Cuba, Southeast Asia and Berlin, on the international front, and the Billy Sol Estes and Bobby Baker cases on the national level.

SAYS STATE CAN SAVE ON TITLE SEARCH

HARRISBURG (AP) — State Auditor Gen. Thomas Z. Minehart says he has suggested to the Highways Department that it might be able to save money on its title searches.

Minehart said Wednesday that during the 1963-64 fiscal year, the department paid $56,492 to attorneys in Bucks, Chester, Delaware and Montgomery counties for title searching.

Of the total, said Minehart, John C. Acton of Bryn Athyn, president of the Pennsylvania Young Republicans, received $29,975 with the entire payment being made within three months.

CLAIM DISPUTED

Minehart, a Democrat running for state treasurer, said he was in no way questioning the legality of the payments.

"I think if they (Highways Department) deal with a reputable title company, that the fees could be trimmed anywhere from 30 to 50 per cent," he said.

Acton disagreed with Minehart's statement that the title searches could be secured at much less costs.

"I checked with other title companies," Acton said, "and found they would charge more to accomplish these title searches."

SAYS PLCB IS CONCERNED BY VIOLATIONS

HARRISBURG (AP)—A. D. Cohn, chairman of the State Liquor Control Board, says he is concerned with the large number of minors being imprisoned or fined for violating new restrictions prohibiting their access to alcoholic beverages.

Cohn announced Wednesday that he was enlisting the aid of school authorities, clergymen and civic groups to inform minors of provisions of the law.

The statute, passed in 1963 as an amendment to the State Penal Code, makes it unlawful for a minor to "attempt to purchase, to purchase, consume, possess or transport any alcohol, liquor or malt or brewed beverages."

The law provides for a fine between $25 and $100 and court costs, or imprisonment up to 30 days, or both.

Liquor Board records show that 880 arrests have been made since the last took effect last Oct. 14. A spokesman said, however, that not all offenses are reported to the board.

STATE MAY GO TO COURT ON BUTLER CASE

HARRISBURG (AP) — The state plans to go to court, if necessary, to prevent a Butler County coal washery from being operated without a permit.

Assistant Atty. Gen. William M. Gross made the statement Wednesday when asked on comment on a letter sent to Gov. Scranton from a man charged with operating the washery.

William L. Harger, president of the Sunbeam Coal Corp. at Boyers, wrote in his letter to the governor: "I DEFY YOU"

"I defy you and the entire state government to shut Sunbeam down. The only way you will be able to do it is to physically drag me to jail and to take over the property with a court order."

Scranton was out of the state and did not see the letter. His office forwarded it to the Health Department.

A department report has pointed to the washery as a partial cause of stream pollution in Slippery Rock Creek.

REFUSED TIME

Harger was arrested Aug. 12 and charged with operating the washery without a permit. He was ordered Aug. 26 to cease and desist.

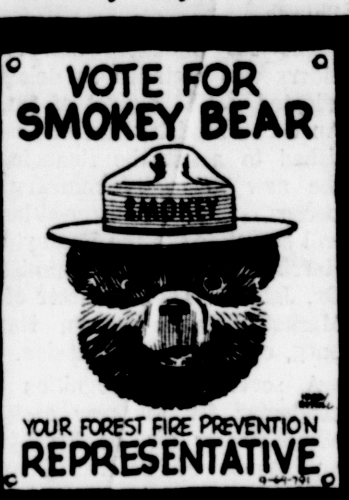

Last week, he appeared before the Sanitary Water Board and asked for 10 days in which to operate while the situation was "being straightened out." The request was turned down.

Gross, assigned as counsel for the water board, said a court injunction would be sought if Harger defied the order.

PROCLAIMS WEEK

HARRISBURG (AP) — Gov. Scranton has proclaimed Oct. 4-10 "Employ the Physically Handicapped Week in Pennsylvania." In signing the proclamation Wednesday, Scranton said he hoped the week would call "public attention to the need for statewide support of programs designed to increase opportunities in employment" for handicapped persons.

Smokey Says:

A burning issue in any party!

James MARLOW Reports

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON (AP) — One of the troubles with this presidential campaign is the issues.

They're scattered all over the lot and President Johnson and Sen. Barry Goldwater are not spelling out answers clear enough to keep in your head.

There are two issues above all.

First — and obviously this is always the No. 1 issue in any campaign — is which man can be best trusted with the presidency?

PUSHING ONE IDEA

The Democrats are doing their best to get across an idea that Goldwater is too reckless to be trusted with it at all.

Goldwater is helping to keep the issue alive for them by endlessly insisting he is not trigger-happy.

Second — do the people want a broad federal government involved with the states and many federal programs, particularly programs for the general welfare?

MOSTLY GENERALITIES

Johnson insists big government is necessary. He said so again this week.

Goldwater has built much of his claim on the presidency in plugging for states' rights. He wants less federal government, more dependence on states and local and communities to do what's needed, and less, not more or broader, social welfare programs. Those are the two main issues.

But if voters are getting bored listening to the arguments it's because the two men have been talking in such broad generalities it's hard to pin them down on what they'd do.

TWO SPECIFICS

About the two most specific things Goldwater has said have been his promises to end the draft and cut income and corporate taxes 25 per cent over five years.

The Johnson administration has indicated it would like to end the draft, if it thought that possible, but so far it shows no signs of thinking so.

Johnson may have been disturbed that Goldwater's tax-cut promise had voter appeal.

This week he promised to cut excise taxes if elected. He is not promising an income tax cut.

CORRUPTION ISSUE

He just got an $11.5-billion tax cut through Congress this year, a tax cut Goldwater voted against.

Other issues have also been treated as major ones.

For instance, Goldwater has said one of the major issues would be corruption in government. He has been banging away at that, but always obliquely.

"CLOUD OF SCANDAL"

He mentioned the Bobby Baker and Billie Sol Estes cases, "government contracts not going to the lowest bidders," and a "cloud of scandal over the White House."

But so far with Goldwater these have been innuendoes. He hasn't shown specifically their connection with the White House.

Johnson, a tough and seasoned politician, is ignoring the insinuations.

He may think it smarter not to help Goldwater keep these points in the public mind by answering the senator or talking of them.

LACKS SPECIFIC PLAN

Goldwater has called "foreign policy a major issue in this campaign" and insisted "it must be discussed."

He has been critical of the administration's handling of Viet Nam, Laos, communism, Cuba, the Berlin wall.

How would he solve them? Here again he is not specific. The Democratic administration, which has been wrestling with these problems isn't promising flat victories.

Since the campaign is still young, maybe Johnson and Goldwater will get down to cases before it's over.

OK NEW RULE ON COAL MINES

HARRISBURG (AP) — The Sanitary Water Board has approved unanimously a recommendation that would ban new coal mine openings whose discharges would contaminate the Susquehanna River, it was announced today.

The recommendation was presented by the North Branch Advisory Committee, organized to help improve the quality of the river's water.

Also approved by the board were recommendations aimed at mine sealing as a "proper and potentially effective" way to reduce mine drainage; the maximum restoration of stripped coal lands to minimize pollution; the establishment of good communications with the mining industry in the interest of drainage control; and the "continuing and persistent" development of mine drainage controls.

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

CLEVELAND (AP) — Fred Stolle, No. 2 man on the Australian Davis Cup tennis team, gulped down a glass of foaming beer and lit a cigarette.

Roy Emerson, his teammate, nonchalantly blew cigarette smoke into the air. He smiled at his pretty wife and bounced his young son on his knee.

Harry Hopman, the dour Australian captain looked — but said nothing.

WHIP WAS GONE

Could this be Harry Hopman, the feared Captain Bligh of the tennis courts?

Could this be the man who once fined his players two shillings for picking up the wrong fork at a dinner table, the martinet who refused to let wives accompany members of his team, who forbade drinking and smoking and invoked strict 10 p.m. curfews?

It was the same — but his whip was gone.

Today his chief importance as Davis Cup captain is to wipe off the racket handles and hand his players a glass of orange juice on the change of courts.

PLAYS IT TOUGH

Hopman still tries to play it tough. He acts as if he's chief of an Australian Gestapo.

He is a scrawny, sandy-haired ex-newspaperman who walks around as if he just bit into a lemon. He treats the press with disdain. He bars interviews with his players. He tries to keep his team secluded behind a velvet curtain.

The man who once was labeled Harry the Fox has been unmasked as a frustrated Caesar whose chief value to the team is to see that it is well-stocked with towels and soap after workouts.

ONCE CALLED GENIUS

Once many persons regarded him as a genius responsible for his country's long string of cup successes.

Since 1950 he has had access to the best tennis talent in the world but Australia lost the cup three times, 1954, 1958 and 1963 — always to U.S. teams admittedly inferior.

Hopman's best job was with younger players. He is a good conditioner and disciplinarian. But when his pupils matured — players such as Frank Sedgman, Lew Hoad, Ken Rosewall and Rod Laver — they always resented his continued efforts to treat them like school kids who have played hockey.

Such is the case with Emerson and Stolle.

LAUGH AND TALK

Hopman tells them they shouldn't talk to newsmen. They laugh, and they talk.

He tells them they shouldn't drink or smoke. When they get thirsty, they knock off a glass of beer. They smoke when they please. Both are employed by cigarette companies.

Emerson, 27, and Stolle, 25, no longer are children. They rebelled earlier this year against Australian tennis officialdom — and the Aussie brass begged them to come back and help get back the cup.

They came back, but on their own terms. And these terms apparently don't include too much guidance from the subdued Hopman.

TRAPPED MEN WERE WELL-FED PAID OVERTIME

By JOHN LENGEL

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Instead of cold broth, there was steak. Instead of misery there was overtime.

George Cooper, 44, an electrician and weather-worn veteran of many construction projects, is a man with a happy story to tell about an 86-hour stay 1,800 feet below the Nevada desert that started Saturday and ended Tuesday with the liberation of four workmen.

ONE WORKER KILLED

One man was killed on the surface when cable whip-lashed up the shaft.

Cooper, Leland Roeder, 45, Floyd Shaw, 51, and Art Luhnow, 27, the group cut off, were sealed into a 30-foot-square room off the bottom of a nuclear test shaft at the Nevada test site, near Mercury, Nev.

Their jailer was 1,000 feet of tangled steel cable jammed into the final 300 feet of the shaft. Rescue workers worked round the clock to remove the cable and free the men.

Cooper, from Tucson, Ariz., told this story: "We barely stepped back from lowering the cable when we heard a swooshing sound coming on like a train. It got louder and louder, then it was quiet."

Communications were rigged through a 10-inch ventilation shaft.

"I was on the phone first and asked them if anybody was killed at the top. You know how thoughts run through your mind."

"We never found out that Jim Gray was dead till we got out."

"I was real sorry. Jim was from Arizona too."

Soon a flow of heavy woolen blankets came down, with playing cards, magazines, a razor, hot coffee and ham sandwiches. Emergency lanterns illuminated a square room, blasted from rock, with a 10-foot ceiling.

STEAK ON SUNDAY

"We were busy all night talking to the guys on top — saying we were okay. We got our first meal at about nine Sunday morning."

"Nine large steaks for four men, we enjoyed that. They were medium done, just like we like it. There was gravy, mashed potatoes, hot rolls and coffee."

All told, each man earned about $900 in overtime pay for his below ground stay.

Cooper planned to be back to work today. He said he had to turn in because he had to get up at 4 a.m.

The Associated Press

Despite the popularity of discotheques, those dark, frenzied places where everyone dances to rock'n' roll records, the old time band won't fade.

As one jazz buff put it, if it weren't for bands, you couldn't have discotheque. The music played at discotheques is records by the latest bands.

The yen to be in a big time band often begins in school with stage bands. And this summer for the sixth time, many stage performers — 14 to 19 — are going to jazz clinics on college campuses.

Guest stars are there for the full two-week period. Among the big names are Dave Brubeck, at the University of Connecticut, and pianist Marty Paich, at Phillips University at Enid.

Marty, a writer-composer, has arranged for Ella Fitzgerald, Frank Sinatra and many others to appear. Woody Herman, is at the University of Nevada at Reno; trombonist Warren Covington and arranger-composer Oliver Nelson head the clinic at Western Reserve University at Cleveland. Covington took over from Tommy Dorsey at his death, then started his own orchestra.

While many young people further their musical education with the idea of working into a college scholarship (there are some around) a love for music is a common bond.

NO VITAMIN LOSS

There isn't a vitamin lost either by the most devoted jazz buff attending the summer jazz clinics. Many find their appetites improved under the planned sessions. They start the day off with a big breakfast.

After scrambled eggs, the group sits down to a classroom session on theory, arranging and orchestra rehearsal. After lunch is a workshop with the guest artist conducting the session. Next is a sectional rehearsal, followed by a before-dinner

Next year's meeting will be held in Split Rock, Carbon County.

New William Penn State Museum Opens Dec. 1

By H. C. NASH

Associated Press Writer
HARRISBURG (AP) — The new William Penn State Museum — hailed as "the largest and finest of its kind" — will open Dec. 1.

Dr. Edwin W. Cruttenden, information officer of the Pennsylvania Historical and Museum Commission, said today there would be general visiting for the first two or three weeks after the opening.

Although the $9.2 million museum-archives tower complex near the Capitol will be physically complete by December, completion of exhibits and galleries will be "a slow process," said Cruttenden.

STAFF IS PROBLEM

The fact that contractors are still at work in the museum building is a major consideration, he said.

Until they complete their refinements and the General State Authority accepts the construction, the Commission is hampered in its basic work of preparing displays and exhibits.

Obtaining and holding highly skilled museum professionals is another problem.

Many sections of the museum will be closed off after the opening so that exhibits and galleries may be established. Parts of the museum, said Cruttenden, will be closed for a long time.

1ST STEP FORWARD

The commission's executive director, S. K. Stevens, has made it clear that inadequate quarters on the Capitol grounds and insufficient funds and staffing over the years have placed the commission at a disadvantage.

The opening of the William Penn Museum will be the first major step toward correction of the situation, but Stevens said that "those who expected a completed new museum on the opening date will be disappointed."

Cruttenden said the staff would increase by "nearly 50 per cent" in the next several years. Geologists, archaeologists, astronomers and fine arts and design technicians will be

PRESBYTERY SESSION HELD

Carlisle Presbytery created the office of "minister-at-large" for service in Harrisburg's inner-city areas at a meeting of the church assembly Tuesday at the First Presbyterian Church, Carlisle.

Presiding over the morning and afternoon sessions was the Rev. Mr. Joseph M. Woods Jr., 1964 moderator of the presbytery and retired executive secretary of the United Churches of Greater Harrisburg.

ANNOUNCE HOURS

Cruttenden predicted that the museum will feel Pennsylvania's considerable tourist increase, a surge that has been shared by the commission's 34 historical sites throughout the state.

Hours for the museum will be 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. Mondays through Saturdays and from 1 to 5 p.m. on Sundays. The ground floor of the 20-floor archives tower will be open to the public for the museum's general opening, but the tower's full operation date is still problematical.

risburg and Dauphin County. He is supply pastor at the Lower Marsh Creek Presbyterian Church.

The 102 ministers and ruling elders who attended as delegates adopted a 1965 budget of $31,574. An urban ministry fund was established to assist the financing of the new inner-city ministry expenses. The "minister-at-large" will be related to the Presbytery's Harrisburg Urban Commission. Dr. John D. Tate, minister of the Market Square Church, Harrisburg, chairs the commission.

A service of recognition was conducted for the new assistant administrator for the Presbyterian Homes of Central Pennsylvania, the Rev. Albert L. Scharner. The administrative offices for the homes system are located in Dillsburg.

The camp and conference report revealed that the 10 camps and conferences held at Camp Michaux during the summer attracted 644 campers. The Presbytery's 59 churches supplied 133 leaders. Fourteen churches sent 29 delegates to the synod-sponsored leadership school at Wilson College during the summer.

The Middle Spring Church, Shipensburg R. D., invited Presbytery to a dedication service on Sunday afternoon, November 15.

Auburn Accepts Negro Students

AUBURN, Ala., (AP) — Auburn University has opened its doors to its first Negro undergraduate students.

Willie Bee Wyatt and Anthony Tilford Lee, both graduates of Macon County High at Notasulga, Ala., were registered at Auburn Wednesday without incident, according to public relations director Ed Crawford.

for the recently completed new Christian education annex.

"Communicating the Gospel" was announced as the theme of the presbytery's Christian education leadership conference at the Gettysburg church on Sunday afternoon.

Other Presbytery-wide functions announced were a United Presbyterian Men's meeting at the Mechanicsburg church on Sunday afternoon, October 25, and a senior high youth rally Sunday afternoon, November 1, at the Mechanicsburg church.

Mineral resources were important thousands of years ago when men trekked hundreds of miles to flint quarries.

Arson-For-Profit Is Fast Growing Business In U.S.

By RICHARD L. GRAVES

NEW YORK (AP) — Arson-for-profit is a crooked business growing as fast as the flames it feeds. One reason: the "torch."

The torch is not a comic strip character. He is, in underworld parlance, the professional fire-setter, the criminal who uses flame for gain.

His main aim is to collect, or help someone else collect, fire insurance on property. The target is a big one. More than $2.2 billion in fire insurance premiums are written each year.

MORE INCENDIARIES
Organized crime is turning more and more to incendiary activity, in the opinion of fire marshals and insurance investigators.

"There is no slacking off in the trend," says insurance investigator Brendan P. Battle, manager of the Arson, Theft and Fraud Department of the National Board of Fire Underwriters.

"Syndicate - controlled hoodlums are believed to have been responsible for recent fire-setting in at least 10 states in the East and Midwest," Battle said in an interview.

ACUTE IN CITIES

The number of cases investigated by his agency during the year ended April 30 reached a record 904. They involved $36.5 million in insurance.

The bureau's investigations did not include major metropolitan areas such as New York, Detroit, Chicago, Los Angeles and Philadelphia, which have their own fire investigating agencies.

But reports of fire officials in those areas indicate their problem is even more acute.

Since January 1962 there have been some 75 bombings and set fires in Chicago business firms. New York City fire officials investigated 589 fires during 1963 that they termed suspicious and another 485 known incendiary cases including many for motives other than profit — revenge, mischief, pyromania.

FEW CONVICTIONS
But it is a clue to the effectiveness of the professional torch that, of all the investigations, there were only six convictions of persons for setting fires to collect insurance.

Also, say the investigators, the number of fires they know or suspect of being arson for profit is probably only a fraction of the actual total.

The reason is that the professional torch knows how to set a fire so that it looks accidental, and fire tends to destroy the evidence of its origin.

How big a bite of fire insurance collection is taken by an arson for profit activity is unknown.

increasing frequency interstate travel on the part of gangland torches who have been given contracts calling for the destruction of business premises by fire," said Battle.

TAKE LIVES, TOO
One result has been that the U.S. Justice Department is taking a new look at organized arson at the request of the insurance firms. The Federal Bureau of Investigation has begun compilation of uniform statistics on arson.

But arson for profit and its impact on the multibillion-dollar fire insurance industry is only part of the picture. There also is the human element. Fires set for profit take lives.

There are dozens of lives lost each year across the nation to flame for gain but, like the dollar cost of the torch, the true casualty totals is unknown.

BERLIN - BORN YANKS RECEIVE BIRTH PAPERS

BERLIN (AP) — As a symbol of American-German friendship, all children of American servicemen born in Berlin are being presented with honorary Berlin birth certificates.

About 400 children are born in the American hospital here every year.

As this is an occupied city, their parents are required only to register the birth at the U.S. Consulate.

But Brig. Gen. Frederick O. Hartel, commander of the Berlin Brigade, and the six mayors of the districts in the American sector decided the kids should get something to remind them in later life of the city in which they were born.

BLACK BEAR
The signed certificates bear the child's name, date of birth, address of the first home, the name of the district and a wish to the "Berlin Child" for happiness and blessing.

The certificate is headed with a standing black bear, the city's symbol, and is signed by the mayor of the district.

The first formal presentation of certificates took place in the district of Zehlendorf, where most of the Americans live. The certificates were handed out by Mayor Willy Stiewe, a cheerful man with a big laugh.

One of the first recipients was a 2-year-old girl with the appropriate name of Berlin Jacqueline. She is the daughter of Sgt. Major and Mrs. Victor G. Borlaug. Borlaug's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gerhard Borlaug, live in Estherville, Iowa.

TRUE BERLINERS
The 65 children at the ceremony were also given toy Berlin bears.

Dr. Stiewe, speaking in English, said: "These children are true Berliners. Some day they can say — 'I was born in Berlin. My parents were there working side by side with Berliners and other Germans for the perpetuation of freedom and democracy.'"

TRAIN PIGEONS FOR RESCUING IN MOUNTAINS

By ERIC WAHA

INNSBRUCK, Austria (AP) — A nine-year-old Dutch girl recently suffered an appendicitis attack in the Falken hut in the Tyrolean Karwendel mountains.

There was no chance to telephone for help since the closest phone is three hours away. Radio communications are impossible among the towering peaks and narrow valleys, of the area.

The owner of the hut quickly sent off a carrier pigeon that braved the strong southern wind to fight its way to the pigeon coop at the Innsbruck gendarmerie headquarters.

REMOVE GIRL
Gendarmes there quickly removed the message strapped to the pigeon's leg and dispatched a helicopter to the Falken hut and the girl, Miriam van Tetering of Den Gelder, Holland, was taken to the Innsbruck clinic.

The headquarters of the pigeon operation is on the fifth floor of the Innsbruck gendarmerie command.

Some 200 pigeons are being trained there. The object is to get them to feel at home there, so that they can find it again when somebody's life may depend on it.

During the training program, the pigeons are let loose somewhere in Innsbruck, to make sure they can find their way back to gendarmerie headquarters.

SERVE RESORT HUTS

"Operation Pigeon" is headed by 1st Lt. Erick Baemler who just returned from a stay in Cyprus where he was a member of the Austrian police contingent.

The pigeons are used for communication with three important, but isolated, mountain huts; the Falken hut, the Adolph Pichler hut in the Stubai alps and the mountain rescue hut at Leutasch in the Wetterstein mountains, all in Tyrol. All three are important tourist centers but are too remote for telephone installation.

Each hut has 15 pigeons. They are exchanged every week so that they won't make themselves too much at home in the huts, as they must be constantly yearning for a return flight to Innsbruck.

SAFETY IN NUMBERS
The huts are all within a 30-kilometer radius of gendarmerie headquarters.

In an emergency three pigeons are generally sent. Some of them may fall victim to hawks and one must be left to deliver the message.

The pigeons' endurance is remarkable. In training, some were taken to Austria's highest Grossglockner mountain — about 100 kilometers away — and they quickly found the way back to their home port.

Wall Opened For Visits To Relatives

BERLIN (AP) — East German and West Berlin government representatives signed today a new agreement permitting West Berliners to pass through the wall for visits with relatives in the Soviet sector of the divided city.

The agreement was signed in East Berlin after eight months of tough negotiations.

It was the second time such an agreement had been reached since the Reds built the wall in 1961 to stop the escape of refugees.

For 18 days during the last Christmas and New Year holiday season, the East Germans issued more than a million wall passes to 800,000 West Berliners.

PILOT ERROR BLAMED FOR FATAL CRASH

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Civil Aeronautics Board has blamed pilot error for the air taxi crash near Tyrone, Pa., in which two British underwater weapons experts and their pilot were killed last Dec. 8.

The CAB's accident investigation produced these probable causes:

1. The pilot's attempt to continue visual flight in adverse weather, "resulting in flight below obstructing terrain."

2. "Improper in-flight decisions and planning."

The British scientists were J. Henry Mole of London and I. Alexander Gatenby of Plymouth, from the Admiralty Underwater Weapons Establishment, Portland, England.

and to develop to the maximum of their potentials.

The development program for children afflicted with this handicap is now in its third year. Each Monday and Wednesday of the school year the group meets from 10:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. at the center, located in rooms provided by the Memorial Evangelical United Brethren Church on W. High St.

This year the program is under the direction of Mrs. Paul L. Reaser who has assisted in the local program since its beginning as a volunteer and a helper. Assisting the director this year is Mrs. George M. Gilbert who gave volunteer service last year.

The schedule on these two days each week includes transportation for the children who are brought to the school and taken home by the driver, Mrs. Louise Hoffman, who is employed for this purpose.

In addition to these regular workers, volunteers are being sought who can help with these children one or two days each month. Personal, careful attention is required for each child present.

Because developmental children have had limited experiences, because they cannot comprehend the demands of life and growth and safety, the program encourages them to learn to obey simple and reasonable commands, which must be based on confidence in the person who requires it.

The Cerebral Palsy workers are constantly on the watch for signs of the child's interest in doing things for himself, such as curiosity about his hands and feet; reaching for a cup, toy or book; endeavoring to perform or attend to his needs; trying to stand or take a step; attempting to vocalize any sounds in speech or song.

Whenever the worker notes the simplest demonstration of a desire to be more independent, the effort is encouraged. If a task is attempted, such as writing with a crayon or placing blocks on one another, the child's effort is praised. Small successes are of paramount importance.

The POWER of FAITH By WOODI ISHMAEL

The Christian Science Pavilion at the New York World's Fair this past season was operated by over 1,000 devout, unpaid lay workers. They came from all walks of life and from halfway around the world to serve unselfishly as hosts to the visitors.

The three in the drawing typify the power of faith that brought them all together. Susan Whittlesey, at the left, is a college student from Burlingame, Calif., who said, "In Christian Science I have found the answer to the many problems that confront the average young person and I wanted to impart this to other young people who are seeking answers."

Thomas P. Hillman, center, is a professor of mathematics at Amherst College in Massachusetts. He said, "It is important for all religious persons to give of themselves. Not many men can serve for an extended length of time, and having a free summer I was happy to work at the pavilion."

At the right is Marjorie Crawford who volunteered to come from her home in Buenos Aires, Argentina. She didn't expect to be accepted when she applied but she added, "I wanted to work at the pavilion as an expression of gratitude for all I have received from Christian Science."

AP Newsfeatures

mindful that "these children may be sensitive, unpredictable and inconsistent in their reactions to various and changing conditions. Sometimes they are quite demonstrative in expressing affection, rejection, happiness, sorrow, anger, disappointment, fear or frustration." Gradually and calmly each child is introduced to new experiences.

The program for developmentally handicapped children constantly strives to provide for them rightful childhood experiences and opportunities, and hopefully to build some lasting resources of the heart and mind. Sometimes there may be notable success, and a child may be led to partial independence. Other rewards are fragile—a smile, a whisper, a touch—but always with the hope that the child's life has been to some degree enriched.

Visitors are welcome at the center at any time. Persons interested in giving volunteer service are asked to call Mrs. George Gilbert.

Your donation to the United Fund drive will help finance this very important service.

Modern farming isn't confined to producing the foods that make us the best fed people in the world. Nowadays, one of the important crops isn't edible at all. It is trees.

Tree farming is comparatively new. It was the product of a problem and a basic national need. In the old days, the forests seemed inexhaustible. So the loggers just cut and moved on to new stands. Time proved that this seeming inexhaustibility of our timber resources was an illusion. The forests were going and fast under the pressures of demand for more and more of the thousands of products that come from wood. So, before the problem became acute, far-sighted men moved and the concept of the tree farm was born.

Its growth has been spectacular. Last year tree farmers planted a billion trees on their taxpaying lands, and in recent years the new growth has exceeded the cut. The danger that we might ultimately become a nation barren of timber is being met.

Tree farming has unique problems. Time is at the heart of them—it takes 20, 50, 100 years or more before a tree grows to marketable size. Along with this there are heavy risks—fire and the depredations of insects and diseases. These enemies must be controlled, and that is a costly job. So, if the tree farmer is to be encouraged, he must have a favorable tax climate. That exists, for the most part, in the timber areas and is an all-important factor in making tree farming possible on a huge scale. The forest eternal has become a reality.

CHICAGO (AP) — Famed singer Mahalia Jackson, who introduced gospel singing to millions across the world, is seriously ill with a heart ailment.

Miss Jackson, 50, was hospitalized Sept. 15 at Little Company of Mary Hospital with what doctors then described as exhaustion due to overwork. The Associated Press learned today that she since has been ordered to remain in bed for four to six weeks. The hospital said visiting was restricted. No telephone calls are permitted.

Miss Jackson has canceled all scheduled appearances through October and has turned down a personal invitation from President Johnson for a White House dinner Oct. 6.

Doctors now say the 200-pound Miss Jackson, who returned in May from a triumphant overseas tour, is suffering from a heart ailment. They decline to indicate how long she will be hospitalized. A spokesman said: "The big problem is that there's nothing much to say one way or another."

Miss Jackson's agent, Lou Mindling of Los Angeles, said,

"She's coming along fine. She's resting well. We hope to have her back working in 30 to 40 days."

Miss Jackson, whose records sell in the millions, learned to sing in a small church on the Mississippi River levee front in New Orleans. Her father died when she was 6 years old. At 13 she was working steadily as a washwoman.

She later moved to Chicago where her first recording was made in 1934. By 1948 she had earned national recognition and two years later gave a concert in New York's Carnegie Hall.

A resident of Chicago's South Side, in July she married Miners Sigmund Galloway, a contracting firm salesman. It was the second marriage for both.

EXPERT LISTS ANTIQUE SHOPS FOR TOURISTS

By VIVIAN BROWN
The Associated Press

Most travelers to Europe seek treasures of some sort, novelty souvenirs or sizable investments. It's important to know where to go for what, says Alfred Lowden, long-time antiques expert.

Lowden, who was antiques buyer for a large New York store for 34 years, visited some old haunts and found some new ones. His verdict: Europe is no longer a treasure trove. But you can find a bargain still, if you have patience, a good eye and perspective. He explains:

"Shop carefully and don't buy the first thing you see. Europe is high and things are more limited than they were even a few years ago. If you see something you like and the price seems too high, plan to write for it if you can't find it elsewhere cheaper or they don't run after you when you leave the store."

FRANCE

In Paris there is the Flea Market and the Swiss Village, ideal for novices. These antiques centers are open for a couple of days

When Jim Bouton makes his delivery he invariably loses his cap but the Yankees don't care as long as he continues his winning ways in the fight for the American League pennant. Bouton, top hurler for the Yanks with a 17-13 record, is shown in action against the Athletics at Yankee Stadium as he shut them out, 4-0, with two hits. (AP Wirephoto)

each week. Dealers comb the countryside, gather what they can and save you the trouble of finding wayside places, he points out. Some people take the breathtaking road to the Riviera, Cannes and Monte Carlo, visiting the antiques shops along the way. There is something for everyone's pocketbook in Cannes, he says. Lowden bought a small painting by Mourques, the new popular painter, for $90, put it under his arm and was offered $250 some moments later by another antiques dealer. He found a beautiful old lute for $4 and some unusual baskets.

PORTUGAL

In Lisbon there are wonderful embroideries from the Madeira Islands, pottery, painted furniture. Some rural sections still use pottery molds of the Phoenicians. You can find old English furnishings in Portugal, he points out, because they were historically, politically, socially related to the English. There were English colonies such as Esterele where Lord Byron lived. There is a great history in the silver industry in Portugal, particularly repousse. Lowden says.

SPAIN

Look for brass in Spain. In one section, Rastro, near Madrid there are blocks of booths and shops with auctioneers sitting on blankets selling wares they've collected — braziers (people want them for domes), wrought iron work (like iron from old balconies), wood work, Spanish doors, tables, coffers chests, ecclesiastical things, paintings, candlesticks, hand loomed rugs, bedspreads. Cooking utensils and decorative wood carvings are moderately priced.

"And they don't want the first price they ask," says Lowden. "It's part of the system to bargain."

ITALY

If you have a good eye, you might spot the Renoir of today in Italy, says Lowden. On the Via Margutta in Rome, near the Spanish steps, are Greenwich Village style shops and street fairs specializing in little bits of carving, pottery, porcelain, attractive wall brackets, modern art. There are carvings, porcelains, paintings on glass and a Sunday morning flea market on the Via Portuense that sometimes offers junk, but more often excellent copper utensils, old books and good early maps. Bologna, too, has wonderful antique shops but prices have gone up. There are grand furnishings too, at Georgini's Galleries in Florence, including fabulous art.

ENGLAND

Look for good English silver, Sheffield, reproductions of porcelains. Brompton Road in London is good for paintings on glass, crystal and pewter. Cotswold is noted for oak and copper and Sussex for mahogany. Bargains are few, but that makes it fun if you find something wonderful. Lowden advises. There's a chance because not everyone wants what you want.

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Henry W. Large, president of the Wabash Railroad since Oct. 1, 1963, has been appointed vice-president for sales by the Pennsylvania Railroad.

The PRR announced Wednesday that the appointment will be effective upon the consummation of the expanded Norfolk and Western system which includes the Wabash, a Pennsylvania subsidiary line.

Dudley Elected To Golf Hall Of Fame

DUNEDIN, Fla. (AP) — Edward B. Dudley, a celebrated player and teacher of golf, has been elected to Golf's Hall of Fame, 11 months after his death at 62.

The Professional Golfers' Association announced today that Dudley was elected by present members of the Hall of Fame to be the 35th man to hold the honor.

Besides winning numerous tournaments during his pro career, Dudley taught many famed pupils, including former President Eisenhower, Bing Crosby and Bob Hope.

He was president of the PGA from 1942 through 1948.

Stop Runaway Plane With Guns

OXNARD, Calif. (AP) — Two Oxnard men today can claim the season's largest prize taken with shotguns: a Stearman biplane.

Leon Coronas, a crop-dusting pilot, started the plane's motor Wednesday in the usual manner — spinning the prop from outside. Before he could get back in the cockpit, one brake failed and the craft started taxiing around Ventura County Airport in wild circles.

E. L. Vanegas, manager of the crop-dusting service which owns the plane, ran out with two shotguns, gave Coronas one, and they started banging away at the plane.

After 10 minutes one or the other nipped a fuel line and the engine sputtered to a halt, out of gasoline.

Farmer Recovers Use Of Cowpath

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — The state of Washington has been cowed into submission.

A year ago state earth-moving machines, building a freeway, dumped dirt on a cow path traversed by animals owned by John Nielsen of nearby Renton.

Nielsen hired Seattle attorney Joseph R. Matsen to unearth a defense. He did, explaining Wednesday that the state never had the right-of-way to the path it thought it did.

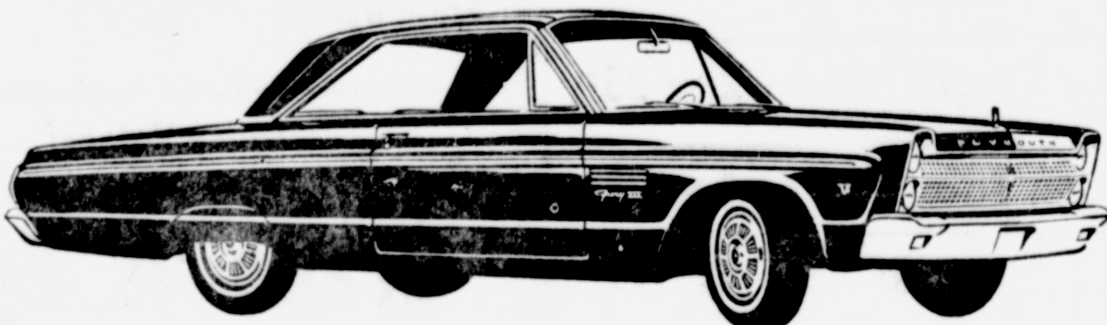

A settlement has been reached. Matsen said. The freeway will take another approach, bringing back bovine bliss.

The interior temperature of the sun is believed to be 30 million degrees Fahrenheit.

Council's Proposal On Religious Liberty Gets Slashing And Support

By BENNET M. BOLTON

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Vatican Ecumenical Council fathers from five nations assailed today a proposed declaration on religious liberty.

But two American prelates, joined by an Austrian cardinal and a German bishop, defended the declaration as a vital issue and urged it to be approved.

The dominant objections voiced in the attacks were against any phrasing in the declaration saying that a man considered in error has the same right of conscience as a man possessing what is believed the truth. This reflected a traditional conservative view in Roman Catholicism that only Catholics have the truth and all others are in error.

18 PRELATES SPEAK

Eighteen prelates spoke in St. Peter's Basilica on this second day of debate on what U.S. bishops have called the most vital public issue before the council. Fourteen of the speakers denounced the declaration.

Strongest objections were voiced by conservative prelates from Italy, Spain, Ireland, Brazil and India.

Michael Cardinal Browne, Irish-born Dominican who has worked in the Vatican Curia for nearly 30 years, sounded the keynote in the attack, terming a declaration in favor of universal religious freedom "not necessary for the peace and unity of peoples today."

CLOSED DEBATE

Council press spokesmen reported on the closed door debate to newsmen. Cardinal Browne was quoted as saying:

"Social right based on a conscience in error cannot be made equal with those based on a conscience in truth."

Cardinal Browne is a member of the doctrine-defending Holy Office, whose secretary, Alfredo Cardinal Ottaviani, Wednesday blasted the proposed declaration as a danger to the Catholic faith.

Another prelate from the Holy Office, Archbishop Pietro Parente, followed Cardinal Browne today and told the 2,500 council fathers the declaration should not be approved in its present form.

NEEDS CHANGE

"It prefers the rights of man and his conscience to the rights of God," he was quoted as saying. "It needs to be amended to safeguard traditional principles."

Bishop Ernest Primeau of Manchester, N. H., and the Most Rev. Father Joseph Buckley, of Wheeling, W. Va., superior-general of the Marist fathers, took the floor to defend the declaration and urge its approval.

Bishop Primeau told the council: "Religious liberty should be regarded as a true and strict right, including immunity from any and all coercion."

Father Buckley was quoted as saying the declaration was needed "to complete the work of the council. If it is not approved, then the council simply collapses."

EXPLICIT APPROVAL

"Let us not disappoint the world," he said.

A member of the council commission that drafted the proposed declaration on religious freedom said there was little doubt that it would be approved eventually.

"We are hoping to win not votes but convictions," he said.

The declaration says that every human has the right to free exercise of religion according to the dictates of his own conscience. It adds that man should be immune from any outside force in his personal relations with God.

FIREMEN FREE TO CALL STRIKE ON RAILROADS

CLEVELAND (AP) — The head of the 70,000-member Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen is free to call a strike in a wage dispute with about 190 of the nation's railroads any time after 12:01 a.m. Friday.

H.E. Gilbert, union president, said Wednesday that more than 99 per cent of the membership had voted to strike if the union's wage demands are not met. Current wage demands were served on the carriers Dec. 2, 1963.

"We have had our fill of futile negotiations and management favoritism," Gilbert said in a statement. "It is unfortunate for the public that railroad negotiators only understand strike language and never negotiate until there is a crisis."

LONG DISPUTE

The threatened strike, third major one since April in this industry, could result in a virtual nationwide rail tieup.

If this threat is to end, however, it appears the next move is up to President Johnson. He can appoint an emergency board under the Railway Labor Act to report on the dispute. This would delay any strike action at least 60 days.

Hurricane Heads For Nova Scotia

HALIFAX, N.S. (AP)—Hurricane Gladys, now reduced to a tropical storm, lost some of its punch as it moved closer to Nova Scotia today.

The weather office said the storm was expected to continue to weaken. Highest winds were expected to be about 45 miles an hour in gusts. Heavy rain was forecast.

Major storm warnings were ended for many sections of the area but the storm appeared headed for the Annapolis Valley of Nova Scotia, a rich fruit belt. An estimated 95 per cent of the valley's 2.5 million bushels of apples still are on the trees.

MOSCOW (AP) — American opera star Leontyne Price says "the warmth of the audience was incredible" at her first performance in the Soviet Union.

The audience called the Mississippi-born Negro soprano, conductor Herbert Van Karajan and other soloists back for 16 curtain calls Wednesday night after a performance of Verdi's "Requiem."

Employees represented by the union got their last wage increase of 56 cents a day March 1, 1961. A union spokesman said the average daily rate for firemen is $21.60 and $25 for engineers.

A strike threat against the railroads by 150,000 shop workers over job security was settled tentatively Tuesday. Six shop craft unions were involved in that dispute.

Last April the White House settled a nationwide rail dispute by five train-operating unions.

FRENCH CHIEF IGNORES PLEA FOR CANAL AID

By JAMES D. BOWMAN

BOGOTA, Colombia (AP) — President Charles de Gaulle winds up his visit to Colombia today, leaving unanswered the question of French aid for an interoceanic canal across the Colombia isthmus.

The French chief of state ignored feelers for the canal project during his 40-hour visit here, the second stop on his 10-nation tour of South America. Ecuador is his next stop.

Government officials hoped De Gaulle's visit might result in noteworthy trade and technical agreements. The idea of a modern canal spanning the narrow isthmus of northwest Colombia was high on the list of possibilities.

IGNORES PLEA

President Guillermo Leon Valencia broached the subject Tuesday night at a state dinner in honor of De Gaulle. He raised the possibility of France taking the lead in forming an international construction organization with U.S. help.

De Gaulle did not mention the subject then or Wednesday during his address to a joint session of the Colombian Congress.

A communique issued by De Gaulle and Valencia Wednesday night reaffirmed their desire to support stabilized prices for basic products. To Colombia this means coffee, cotton, bananas and petroleum.

TECHNICAL AID

France also promised increased assistance in limited technical fields.

An estimated one million persons got a glimpse of De Gaulle during his motor trips about the city. Many others saw him over government television outlets. The national radio network gave detailed accounts of his doings.

Police, fearful of an attempt on his life, arrested 210 persons and were holding them until De Gaulle's departure. The army said a top member of the anti-De Gaulle French Secret Army Organization, Col. Pierre Chateau Jobert, was believed hiding in Bogota.

SIAMESE TWIN DIES; BROTHER IS CRITICAL

CHICAGO (AP)—One of the Jaquet Siamese twins died Wednesday night, four days after birth. His brother was reported to be holding his own although still on the critical list.

Donald Jaquet died of complications caused by a congenital heart ailment and the absence of large intestine, said a spokesman at Children's Memorial Hospital.

The condition of the other twin, Ronald, reportedly had stabilized. A negative chest X ray erased earlier fears he had pneumonia, doctors said.

The mother, Mrs. Carol Jaquet, 21, of suburban Norridge, was reported in good condition in Evanston Hospital, where the twins were born Saturday.

They were taken to Children's Memorial after birth and were separated Sunday in a 3½-hour operation.

WREXHAM, Wales (AP) — An attempt to restore the severed arm of an 18-year-old girl has failed.

Doctors sewed Irene Lloyd's left arm back into place six hours after a machine in a textile plant tore it from the shoulder socket Tuesday.

The girl's condition deteriorated Wednesday. The arm was removed and the girl was reported improving.

Assassination Report Given To President

By STERLING F. GREEN
WASHINGTON (AP) — The seven members of the Warren Commission present to President Johnson today the completed report on their investigation of the assassination of President John F. Kennedy.

Chief Justice Earl Warren and his six commission colleagues had a late morning White House appointment. Their massive report is to be made public Sunday night.

The instructions they received from Johnson 10 months ago, when he ordered the inquiry, were to "study and report upon all facts and circumstances" relating to the slaying in Dallas last Nov. 22 and on "the subsequent violent death of the man charged with the assassination" — Lee Harvey Oswald.

ASCERTAIN TRUTH

The President directed the commission "to satisfy itself that the truth is known as far as it can be discovered, and to report its findings and conclusions to him, to the American people, and to the world."

In discharging this duty, the seven have interrogated hundreds of witnesses in secret hearings, studied thousands of investigation reports, traced Oswald's movements abroad, re-enacted the killing and compiled some 20 volumes of testimony, depositions and exhibits.

The end product is the "Summary Report," a book of more than 700 pages, which will be issued Sunday. No schedule of release has been announced for the supporting volumes.

Besides Warren, the members are Allen W. Dulles, former director of the Central Intelligence Agency; John J. McCloy, banker, lawyer, and former high commissioner of Germany; Sens. Richard Russell, D-Ga., and John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky., and Reps. Hale Boggs, D-La., and Gerald Ford, R-Mich.

Sticky Strings To Reach Out On Mars

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The National Aeronautics and Space Administration is developing a package of life-seeking sticky strings as one experiment planned for a spacecraft intended to land on Mars in 1969.

When the unmanned craft lands on the Martian surface, explosive charges will shoot each of the three strings out about 50 feet. The strings will be reeled in mechanically, with the sticky substance picking up soil particles.

Inside the spacecraft, the particles will be deuced with a sterile broth laced with radioisotopes. Should the Martian soil contain any living organisms, they should begin to grow within four hours and produce a radioactive gas. The gas would be detected by a transistorized geiger counter and the information radioed to earth.

The experiment could provide the first evidence of life on another planet.

Wedding

Shank—Bollinger
Miss Carol Jean Bollinger, daughter of Richard O. Bollinger, New Oxford R. 2, became the bride of Kenneth LeRoy Shank, York Springs R. 1, son of Michael Shank, York Springs, Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the Immaculate Conception Church, New Oxford. The Rev. Fr. Alexis Arnoldin performed the double-ring ceremony. The altar was decorated with white and pink carnations. Mrs. Marie Noel was the organist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a long white gown of silk taffeta fashioned with a bateau neckline, long tapered sleeves and a full chapel-length train featuring a French sash back with Venice lace appliques accenting the bodice and full skirt. Her bouffant veil of pure silk illusion fell from a taffeta pillbox. She carried a bouquet of white carnations, rosebuds and lilies of the valley with streamers.

Miss Candace Bollinger, the maid of honor, wore a light blue floor-length gown of peau de soie with a scoop neckline, controlled bell skirt with a matching bolero. Her headpiece was of matching peau de soie with tulle veiling. She carried rosebuds with white carnations and lilies of the valley with streamers to match her gown.

BRIDAL ATTENDANTS

The bridal attendants were Miss Sue Bollinger, Miss Karen Hoffacker, Miss Sandy Hollinger, Miss Nancy Hamm and Miss Pat Bollinger. Their gowns were of the same design as that of the maid of honor, of peau de soie in pastel rainbow colors of green, aqua, lilac, pink and yellow. They wore matching headpieces and carried rosebuds, carnations and lilies of the valley with streamers to match their gowns.

Richard O. Bollinger Jr., brother of the bride, served as best man and the ushers were: William Bollinger, Wayne Hall, Robert Newman, Robert Myers and Robert Shank. Randy Wise, Hanover, was the ring bearer. The flower girls, Miss Judy Hoffacker, Hanover, and Miss Cindy Mickle, Littlestown, wore floor-length gowns of white peau de soie with blue cummerbunds and blue tulle veiling. They carried baskets of white carnations and rosebuds.

The bride's mother was attired in a blue chiffon dress with a corsage of white rosebuds. The groom's mother wore green and yellow chiffon with a corsage of yellow rosebuds.

Following a reception in the New Oxford Fire Hall the couple left on a wedding trip to Virginia. For traveling the bride chose a pink knit suit with a corsage of white carnations and rosebuds. Upon their return they will reside at the home of the groom.

The bride is a graduate of New Oxford High School in this year's class and is employed by the East Berlin Shoe Factory. The groom graduated from the same school this year and is employed at the same place.

The POWER of FAITH By WOODI ISHMAEL

As a young man with great skill on the golf course, Ken Venturi seemed destined for the biggest prizes. In 1958, he was called "the best of the young golfers." He was 27. He was on his way. Golf absorbed his life.

And then the world turned for Ken. In 1961, he suffered bronchial pneumonia. A skin allergy followed. Then he suffered the loss of his fingernails. He no longer could perform with certainty and skill in golf competition. His game fell apart. And he became depressed. In three years, he failed to win a tournament. He was about to give up the game. He lost faith in himself. And he had no other faith to hold onto.

At this moment, he happened to meet Father Frank Murray, a San Francisco parish priest who shared the same enthusiasm as Ken: golf. That was the common ground on which they met. They became friends and slowly Father Murray helped Ken regain faith in himself—as well as recognizing the power of faith greater than himself. A few days before the 1964 U.S. Open Championship, one of the major events in professional golf, Ken received a six page letter from Father Murray in which the priest encouraged him to win so that the victory would be an inspiration to others whose lives were full of despair. Ken won.

"I feel stronger toward the church and we go every Sunday, not only to give thanks but to show that I was wrong," Ken Venturi says.

The Weeder's Guide

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

There are ways to perk up your lawn—to speed up the work of nature — from the ravage of winter.

Some grasses, particularly the popular Kentucky bluegrass, grow intermittently through winter. Their runners will advance when the soil is not frozen solidly. So you can help the beautification process along as soon as green shows.

Dr. Robert W. Schery, director of The Lawn Institute, suggests:

1. Set your lawn mower real low for the first (and last) time of the season, cutting before abundant new growth appears.

This will get rid of leaves browned by winter. It will give you a better view of the new shoots and the new grass a better exposure to the gentle spring sun.

2. Fertilizing will speed growth. Feed early with a high nitrogen plant food. This is especially important if you didn't feed last fall. Fertilize while the soil is still hard, if possible, so you won't dig footprints in a soggy lawn.

3. If your grass has been damaged or thinned during the winter, scatter seed, scratching the earth gently before sowing. Use a good quality lawn seed mixture of fine-textured grasses.

RID THATCHED SPOTS

Get rid of thatched spots on your lawn early. Thatch is undecomposed surface vegetation from dropping leaves. If conditions for decay are favorable the old leaves will soon form good humus. If decay does not keep pace with leaf-drop, more thatch results and this may smother your grass or harbor disease and harmful insects.

One reason for increased thatch in lawns, Dr. Schery says, may be the demand for dense grass. Varieties are chosen which produce much leafage, and generous fertilization forces production of even thicker growth.

Kentucky bluegrass and fine fescues such as Chewings, Illahee, Pennlawn and Rainer spread by underground runner. When their lowest leaves drop they crumble to the soil where humidity is conducive to decay. Trailing grasses that spread by above-ground runners (some southern lawn species and creeping bentgrass) weave "a mat of living stems that holds the thatch above the soil and troublesome thatch may accumulate," says Dr. Schery. Get rid of this.

If you insist on a close-clipped lawn that resembles a golf fairway, don't expect too much from Kentucky bluegrass. Highland bentgrass would be more appropriate. It is a partially trailing, fine-textured variety that tolerates close mowing.

The life-size statue of St. Fiace, patron saint of the gardeners, that stands in Florida Cypress Gardens near Winter Haven, Fla., is a tribute to Vernon Rutter Sr., who has supervised the gardens since their beginning. St. Fiace Feast Day was celebrated August 30.

The statue, carved in Italy, was placed in the gardens by the owners, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Downing Pope. It has a pointed shovel in one hand and an open Bible in the other.

A large fern tree towers above St. Fiace and flowers of the season bloom constantly on either side. In the background are white azaleas.

St. Fiace was born about 670 A.D. in Ireland and went to France.

According to legend, St. Fiace, bishop of Meaux, offered St. Fiace as much land as he could turn up in a day. St. Fiace turned the top of the soil with his staff, instead of using a plow, which gave him a larger plot of land. Many healing miracles were attributed to him.

Other statues of St. Fiace stand in New York City's Cloisters and Metropolitan Museum.

ALL-AMERICAN TENNIS FINALS SEEN POSSIBLE

By THOMAS A. REEDY
Associated Press Writer

SANDWICH, England (AP) — The prospect of an all-American final in the 1964 British Women's Amateur Golf Championship loomed today as more than likely.

Four Americans, two British, one French girl and a Canadian teed off in the quarter-finals over the 6,017-yard par 73 Prince's course, and the odds were in Uncle Sam's favor.

There was some obstacle ahead for the Americans, however. Three of them were bracketed together, with only one to survive the firing over the 18-hole quarter-final and semifinal matches today. Nancy Roth of Hollywood, Fla., who was drawn in the lower bracket, was in the best position of the U.S. girls.

IN TOP BRACKETS

Miss Roth meets Canada's Joanne Goulet, and if she survives then takes on the winner of the all-England battle between Bridget Jackson and Ann Rampton.

In the top bracket the Americans were virtually staring at each other. Phyllis Ann Preuss of Pompano Beach, Fla., engaged 19-year-old Catherine La-Coste of France. Barbara Fay White of Shreveport, La., took on Carol Sorenson of Janesville, Wis., in what promised to be the match of the day.

Wednesday's two rounds took their toll of some fine players. Among the victims were Brigitte Varanot of France, the defending champion, who lost 2 and 1 to Miss Roth, and England's Curtis Cup star Marley Spearman, who was knocked out by Miss Goulet 3 and 2.

Miss White, who has been at the peak of her game, lost some of her touch Tuesday but survived a poor round against Ireland's Ita Burke.

The Kangaroo Rat takes such enormous leaps that it can outrun a horse.

The cutworms would cut down the plant at ground level and let it go at that. But this year they also crawled all over the plants and chewed the leaves.

If you have only a few plants, a cardboard collar set an inch deep in the ground and high enough to prevent the cutworm from going over the top will protect tender growth.

Large gardens make such individual barriers difficult. Dusting or spraying with 5 per cent DDT chlordane or dieldrin is one mass treatment. Cutworms also may be poisoned with a bait made of one-quarter of a pound of Paris green to five pounds of wheat bran to which is added enough water to moisten it. This should be scattered around or mixed in the ground near the plants.

'GIRL FRIDAY' FACES OUSTER IF BOSS QUILTS

By HELEN PALMER
NEW YORK (AP)—When the boss dies or moves into south-ern-sunshine and chairman-of-board status, what happens to his factotum, or Good Gal Friday?

A true Gal Friday is a constant buffer between her boss and the world both inside and outside the office. She accepts or rejects phone calls with an unerring instinct; catches up on his expense accounts; keeps one drawer free for both the key to his liquor and a supply of bicarbonate of soda.

But her boss is not eternal. And where does she go from there? No place but down — or out.

TOO MUCH, TOO LATE
Discussions with executives and personnel managers reveal that: The usual Gal Friday is probably 10 to 15 years younger than her boss and not ready for retirement.

She has been at the top of the secretarial heap for years, with the usual salary increases, and cannot easily be demoted to a lesser job without losing face.

Hed work has been so geared to one individual and his personality that she is set in his particular ways and not easily trained in someone else's.

Having reigned as the boss's secretary and possibly served as hatchet woman on numerous occasions, she undoubtedly has trod on a few toes and been the subject of envy if not enmity.

Her salary is at a point where few companies could legitimately carry her in an innocuous job.

Other older executives already have their own highly-specialized Gal Fridays. New, upcoming ones want younger, more pliable helpers that they can train according to their own fancies.

OR MARRY HER?
In the happiest circumstances, an executive's Gal Friday is freed just at the time another executive loses a secretary and the transfer is simple. Even more happily, the retiring executive may need his G.F.'s services for his personal business and take her with him. Or if his wife dies or divorces him at the apropos time, he may even marry her.

When companies have good benefit plans, and if positions can't be found or created in setting up library, records, or history, for example, employees may be given six months to find a job either inside or outside the company. If this is impossible, they are permitted to resign with generous severance because the situation is not their fault.

Age makes a difference, according to a personnel man in a large oil company. Gal Fridays in their forties usually can be absorbed into a company. In their fifties, however, they become "what employe relations experts call "redundants."

A WISE MAN
However a young man warned by other executives that an older woman is slow decided that her store of both formal and informal company background was more valuable than speed. The arrangement worked out happily for them both.

Sometimes they receive an advance settlement of pension and are pre-retired.

Welcoming this are married not entirely dependent on their salaries; or those who no longer need extra money to send children through college; or wish an opportunity to work part time elsewhere with fewer payroll deductions and less labor.

THEIR OWN PLANS
Some large organizations use these experienced "retired Gal Fridays" for part-time help dur-

DRAPED 'JUSTICE' — Despite a workman's feet in her face, a statue representing justice remains solemnly aloof while her back is scrubbed. The statue, located outside the Federal Building in Indianapolis, is being cleaned along with three of her "friends."

utes if she does not prepare it properly."

Stuffed pork chops, a favorite with most American men, were prepared with a new taste idea in curry chops; the stuffing for the chops included such ingredients as coconut, curry powder, chopped onion and celery. Either a pork loin chop or a pork rib chop can be used, but again it was stressed that a thicker chop will provide better tasting meat than thin ones. Miss Norman suggested that you make the pocket on the bone side of the chop rather than the fat side; she indicated that it is wise not to overstuff the chop or the meat will not brown itself properly. This recipe calls for a little water to provide the liquid in the baking dish, but apple juice or soup may be used.

A little bit of Creole cookery was introduced in the recipe for liver Louisianne. For this dish, either beef or pork liver may be used. The lecturer pointed out that liver has a membrane over it, and if the meat man does not remove this membrane, it should be done during the preparation of the meat. This is much easier done if the meat has been chilled; the liver will also slice much easier and more evenly if it has been partially frozen before it is cut. Liver is a very good source for vitamin A and iron; pork liver is richer in iron than is beef liver. Since this is one of our variety meats, we must pay particular care not to overcook it, and not to cook at a high temperature. Liver should be included in our diet at least once a week.

"PARTY PUPS"
The next food is one which has been designed to meet the tastes and interests of the younger members of the family, and is called party pups. Ground beef is listed as one of the most popular meats we have on the market; it is one of our most versatile ing vacations.

In government service, and companies with similar grade system, an executive secretary's rank excludes her from a lesser job because of salary and because she might block a younger employe from advancement.

Transfer to other branches of the company often is a solution. No matter what jobs are found for them, many Gal Fridays who lose their particular Big-Business "Crusoes" find the adjustment impossible and stay only a few months before they work out their own plans for semi or total retirement from the company.

Yes, abandoned or obsolete Gal Fridays are a definite problem, and a solution can only be worked out on a purely personal basis.

meats. To the ground beef, she added crushed blue cheese crackers, crumbled, shaped it like frankfurters, yrapped each in a slice of bacon, and placed it in the broiler. If preferred, ordinary saltines and blue cheese can be used, or just saltines, but the cheese crackers give it a new taste.

Ground meat will keep three to four months in the freezer, but when you freeze any kind of meat, it is important that you use a freezer-weight paper — waxed paper will not freeze successfully. If you are going to cook ground meat in patties, it is better to freeze it in patties, separated with 2 thicknesses of waxed paper, then wrapped in the freezer paper. A freezer chart is included in the booklet given to each person at the school, which will show the length of time the various meats may safely be stored. Miss Norman advised her listeners that "meat may be defrosted at room temperature, in the refrigerator, or as you cook it. If you use one of the first two methods, it should be thawed with the freezer paper left on it; if you thaw it as you cook it, you will need to increase the total cooking time from one-third to one-half of the original cooking time."

"When you purchase ground beef get it at least 20 to 25 percent fat for a more juicy and more tasty meat."

PARTY GRILL
In preparing the deviled ham tarts, Miss Norman featured the use of a party grill. She reminded the audience that the first time such a grill is used, it must be seasoned, and after each use it must be allowed to stand open until it is completely cooled, then the crumbs brushed from it before it is stored away. She recommended that with all electrical appliances, the instruction booklet be carefully studied to be sure to get the proper use of the appliance. These tarts also are a favorite of young people, and the basic pastry mix was used.

Along with the tarts, the Sun Coast snacks were prepared, this being a recipe which featured ready-to-serve meats. Luncheon meats cut in cubes, frankfurters and smoked sausage links cut in pieces are cooked a short time in a sauce of brown sugar, orange juice and rind, and spices. This same glaze is good for a slice of ham or a pork roast.

With the tarts and snacks, an hors d'oeuvres tray was prepared, using more of the variety meats, ham rolls, ham ruffles, meat and relish kabobs and decorated with a large meat tree. A tray for the tarts was made from aluminum foil, eliminating the need for a silver dish. This tray is something young people and children of the family can assist in making.

FINAL RECIPE

The final recipe was for the beautiful Candy Cane Cake, which features crushed peppermint stick candy in the cake and in the frosting. Miss Norman pointed out the importance of thoroughly creaming the lard and the sugar, indicating that it will resemble the texture which is most like whipped cream when it is done properly. "Until the time you are ready to add the milk and the dry ingredients, you do not need to worry about over-mixing the cake. To have greater volume, you begin and end with dry ingredients when adding them and the milk to your batter. If you use all-purpose flour instead of cake flour in a recipe, you use two tablespoons less per cup of the all-purpose flour. With this recipe, a Heath candy bar can be substituted for the peppermint candy," she said.

The foods prepared during the school were again displayed with the revolving mirror during the Spotlight on Foods, Miss Norman was assisted in this part the program by Elizabeth Wetzel and Jeannette Keller, students at Gettysburg High School. "We eat with our eyes and it is important that we serve food attractively," Miss Norman said as she displayed the foods with their garnishes of vegetables, fruit and fresh flowers.

Miss Nedra Snyder, home economist for the Metropolitan Edison Company, displayed "the importance of using the proper light bulbs in the hope to get the full value of the warmth, texture and coloring of our walls, rugs, drapes, furniture and accessories." She demonstrated the effect of warm and cool colors in decorating. She welcomed anyone who is planning to redecorate their homes to bring swatches of material to the office in Gettysburg where they can determine the effect of light on the materials they have selected. She also announced a home-planner forum to be held in the Hanover YWCA each Tuesday night for three weeks beginning October 6 and suggested any interested person could register by calling the Gettysburg office of MECO.

WOMEN GIFTED IN DESIGNING IMPROVEMENTS

By VIVIAN BROWN
The Associated Press

Women's esthetic sense could be put to good use when a man is planning some project indoors or outdoors. But try to get him to listen.

The man is so full of logarithms, levels and plumb lines, that he'll pay no attention to a good suggestion that could give a project a touch of beauty.

If he is planning a porch, he is planning it wood-wise and construction-wise. When his wife thinks of that porch, she thinks of it as an accessory to the house that should be as in tune with its main part as dress accessories are with a wardrobe.

She is interested in color and furnishings and how the porch is going to look as part of the house.

HELPLESS LANDSCAPERS

Women can be helpful, too, in suggestions about landscaping patios and walks. They have more time than men to devote to plans. A man gets an idea and he doesn't want to bother improving on it. If it is workable, he goes ahead with the project. But when a woman gets an idea, she is likely to exhaust all possibilities before making the ultimate decision. Men laugh at how women change their minds but a woman strives for perfection by hashing and rehashing until she is convinced that she is on the right track. Men haven't time to hear women out and they consider that kind of cogitation a bore.

BRICK PATTERNS

One man was all set to lay a brick terrace at the side of his house with the idea of screening it in next year. When his wife inquired what pattern he planned to use, the man almost flipped. It was enough just to get the bricks into the ground, he told her. So she offered to do the job if she could have carte blanche.

Happy to farm out the back-breaking chore, he put in the "and" and wooden frame for her. She took about 20 bricks into the house and spent a day making all sorts of attractive designs on the floor until she had a pattern she wanted. Then she set her goal. She measured the area and divided the 20 by 10-foot space into eight spaces of five by five feet, figuring she do one area each day.

She used a herringbone pattern — rows of parallel lines with adjacent rows slanting in the reverse direction. She chose the pattern because when shined and darkened it would be an especially glamorous and cool-looking floor for a screen porch.

PEBBLE PATH

Another woman managed to dress up a drab path at the rear of her house with pebbles and other small stones she found on the beach.

All winter long she had gone to a beach a few miles from her home, filled baskets with beautiful stones and carried them to her house where she put them in large canvas sacks and stored them in the garage. Her husband and other men in the neighborhood laughed at her "pebble-picking" as they called it.

When she was ready, she dug down several inches along the 15-foot path, filled it with sand and placed her colorful stones in it. She then put prepared dry cement mix over it, and lightly sprinkled it with water. This washed the cement off the pebbles, filling in the cracks nicely, and what a lovely path she had!

The only regret, she says, is that she hadn't taken time to match up colors and make a pretty design "sort of like a beaded Indian belt," she said. The belated thought drove her a little wild, she admitted, but her husband breathed a sigh of relief when she said that she wouldn't dig it up — not now, anyway.

The heaviest rainfall in one hour was 12 inches recorded at Holt, Mo., in 1947.

WILL CONTINUE MILITARY AID TO CONGO UNITS

By BARRY SCHWEID
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Johnson administration has rejected an attempt by the Organization of African Unity to halt U.S. military assistance to the troubled Congo.

"We could not agree to discuss our aid to the Congo without the participation of the Congolese government at whose request our aid is given," State Department press officer Robert McCloskey said Wednesday.

Other sources reported that President Johnson's schedule is too crowded to permit a conference with representatives of the OAU, a 34-nation African group that has had U.S. support over the years in its efforts to stabilize the Congo.

WON'T DISCUSS IT

This means the United States won't discuss its aid program with a five-nation OAU delegation that wants such aid — primarily communication and transportation equipment — cut off.

It means the United States has sided with the Congolese government, whose leaders have denounced the effort to halt American assistance.

Announcement of the U.S. position came after Kenya's minister of state, Joseph Murumbi, had left for Washington. Other African nations represented on the mission are Ghana, Guinea, Nigeria and the United Arab Republic.

The five-nation delegation was drawn from a conciliation commission created two weeks ago by the OAU after a series of tribal rebellions had wrested about one-sixth of the Congo from government control.

Three Cardinals Say Every Human Being Has Right To Full Religious Freedom

By BENNET M. BOULTON

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Three American cardinals appealed to the Vatican Ecumenical Council Wednesday to pass a declaration that every human being has a right to complete religious freedom.

Conservative Spanish and Italian cardinals assailed the proposal as a danger to the Roman Catholic Church.

The clash came in one of the most-dramatic sessions of the 3-year-old council.

During the same meeting in St. Peter's Basilica, the 2,500 council fathers voted approval of the very heart of the collegiality concept of shared power by Pope and bishops in governing the Church.

DEFEND LIBERTY
Richard Cardinal Cushing of Boston, Albert Cardinal Meyer of Chicago and Joseph Cardinal Ritter of St. Louis — speaking for nearly all 244 U.S. bishops — called on the council to defend religious liberty. They said approval of the declaration was an absolute necessity.

The opposition to the religious liberty declaration — one of the most-controversial topics of the council — came from cardinals Alfredo Ottaviani and Ernesto Ruffini of Italy, and Spanish Cardinals Fernando Quiroga and Jose Bueno.

They supported the view that public officials have the right to establish a state religion.

DEFEND FAITH
Cardinal Ottaviani, conservative head of the Vatican's holy office, was quoted as saying: "We must profess and defend the Catholic faith even if sometimes this brings persecution."

Council press officials reported the closed-door proceedings to newsmen.

Cardinal Cushing, in his first speech to the council, was quoted as saying: "The Church must become the champion of religious freedom."

"What we are asking," he said, "can be summed up in what has become an important phrase in traditional American life — 'decent respect for the opinions of mankind.'"

Telling the council that he spoke for "practically all the bishops of the United States," the Boston cardinal said: "We must insist on this declaration because it is so important for all nations. . . it is something that the Catholic world and the non-Catholic world alike have been waiting for. At last it has been possible to have full discussion of this very crucial point in the council hall."

Cardinal Meyer said the religious liberty declaration is of "such immense importance that if it is not passed then nothing else done at the council will have much importance."

PRaises TEXT
Cardinal Ritter praised the declaration for expressing what he called "the interior, natural, native right of every individual," in his religious convictions.

Support for the American position came from Paul Emile Cardinal Leger of Montreal, speaking for several bishops of Canada. He praised the text of the declaration as "very acceptable," saying it would be a help in Christian unity efforts.

The declaration is part of the schema on Christian unity, along with another declaration on Roman Catholic relations with Jews and other non-Christians.

CHARITY, KINDNESS
Cardinal Ottaviani objected to this, saying, "We should have charity and kindness but I do not understand why we should speak of honor."

In essence, the declaration says every human has the right to free exercise of religion according to the dictates of his conscience. It adds that man

Today In Washington

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Senate-House conference committee has voted to continue for two years the Food for Peace program for disposing of U.S. farm surpluses overseas. Final congressional approval is expected.

President Johnson had asked that the program be extended for five years. In the past 10 years, $12.3 billion worth of agricultural products was shipped abroad at a cost of $17 billion.

The measure authorizes expenditure of $3.5 billion on the program over the next two years.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A new automobile accident report, challenging the theory that chances of a mishap increase in proportion to the rate of speed, says the key factor is the difference between a vehicle's speed and the average speed of other traffic moving in the same direction.

A report by Bureau of Public Roads experts — issued Tuesday — concluded that an automobile traveling 40 miles an hour on a highway with a 60-mile speed limit is just as likely to be involved in an accident as another car going 80.

Among other conclusions: —Chances of an accident of a car going 20 miles an hour would be sharply higher than either the 40 m.p.h. or 80 m.p.h. vehicle.

—The death rate is highest at very high speeds, but lowest at average speeds.

—Drivers under 25 or over 65 are more likely to be involved in accidents.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House approved Tuesday its last money bill of the present session — a $998,645,874 appropriation to finance various governmental activities including the war on poverty, and civil rights, food stamp and urban mass transit programs.

Vietnamese Demand Hike In Pay And Double Rice Allotment In New Crisis

By MALCOLM W. BROWNE
SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — A new labor crisis hit Premier Nguyen Khanh's hard-pressed government Wednesday.

Some 3,000 workers reportedly struck French-owned plantations in Bien Hao Province, demanding a 50 per cent pay increase and double rice allotments. There appeared a strong possibility that many more thousands of plantation workers in other provinces would join the strike.

Bien Hoa begins about 15 miles north of Saigon, and most of the province is controlled by the Communist Viet Cong. Unconfirmed reports said the workers struck at the demand of Red guerrillas who operate throughout the plantations.

STRIKE ENDS

A general strike in Saigon ended Tuesday night, but the new work stoppage underlined the uncertainty surrounding the government's future.

Crises have beset Khanh for the past two months at increasingly frequent intervals with increasingly serious results. In every case the government has won temporary peace only by making major concessions to political, religious and labor opponents.

The pattern has been one of steady undermining of central authority.

TRIBESMEN BOLT

A revolt of mountain tribesmen in the highlands of central Viet Nam 150 miles north of Saigon still causes major concern. It began Sunday with a "declaration of independence" and a demand for regional autonomy by several hundred primitive "montagnards" whom U.S. special forces had trained and armed as guerrilla fighters against the Communist Viet Cong.

The revolt appeared today to be spreading throughout Darlac Province and apparently included many more tribesmen than had participated originally. The Saigon government ordered reinforcements of lowland Vietnamese troops into the area.

Alabama's Timber Aids U. S. Economy

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — Timber-based activities are playing an increasing important role in Alabama's economy. The U.S. Forest Service estimates the value of Alabama timber shipments annually at more than $300 million. Woodsmen harvest 2 billion board feet of timber each year from the state's 21 million acres of woodlands.

The Forest Service predicts Alabama and the south will become the main sources of the nation's lumber supply. Already Alabama ranks second nationally in pulpwood production.

Lake 'Monster' Has A Swimming Party

KELOWNA, B.C. (AP) — Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Kerry, of Kelowna, reported they watched Ogoogo, the mysterious and unidentified "monster" of Okanagan Lake, swimming and diving for a mile down the lake till he disappeared near the Kelowna bridge. Kerry said Ogo "looked very much like a seal head, although I thought I could make out two horns."

Now on display: the most beautiful Chrysler ever built.

This is Chrysler '65. The big one that delivers. Luxury that reflects your good taste, for one thing. A fast answer to your demands, for another.

Look at it. Clean-lined. Big. Beautiful. Eighteen feet of comfort. Two tons of security. Called Chrysler.

It's easier to get into and out of. There's lots of headroom, and legroom and hiproom.

Get in and drive it. The first thing you'll notice is best described as "scorch." Model 1965 is a very quick automobile.

And there's an improvement in ride you can really feel.

One more point. A Chrysler isn't all that expensive. Seven Newport models are actually priced just a few dollars a month more than some of the most popular smaller cars.

Visit your Chrysler dealer and see them all: economical Newport; sports-bred 300; and the luxurious New Yorker. Move up to Chrysler. Model 1965. The man who sells them will make it easy.

More Than 17 Million Suffer From Hay Fever

By RICHARD F. NEWCOMB
AP Newsfeatures Writer

Hay fever has practically nothing to do with hay, and furthermore, it's no joke.

Hay fever is one of the allergic illnesses and, according to the Allergy Foundation of America, more than 17 million Americans suffer from some form of these illnesses.

While hay fever is by far the most common (some 8 million victims annually), there are many others, including asthma, insect stings, and reactions to food or drugs. The foundation reports that in a recent year nearly 5,000 persons died of asthma, 33 persons succumbed to bee or wasp stings, and at least 30 to penicillin allergy.

CENTURIES OLD

The Long Island (N.Y.) Jewish Hospital, which has made an extensive study of hay fever, reports that allergies to foods, plants and grasses have been noted for thousands of years. It was not until the early years of the 19th Century, however, that hay fever came under study. Finally, in 1828, a London physician, John Bostock, made the first reference to "hay fever." He used the name because the ailment seemed to coincide with the haying season in England.

The principal cause is now known to be the ragweed plant, but pollen from almost any flowering plant, tree or grass can be the cause. And while the most suffering occurs in late summer and early fall, because the air is then saturated with pollen from maturing plants, it can occur in almost any month of the year.

IN ARID STATES

In different parts of the country, some plant or tree may be giving off pollen at any time. In general, the greatest pollen concentrations are in the mid-west and the east, and the least in the more arid states of the west and southwest. The Allergy Foundation estimates that in the fall season as much as 250,000 tons of ragweed pollen are in the air.

What to do? Stamp out ragweed? That is not possible, for it grows everywhere, even in grain fields. Nor is it practical to eradicate ragweed in only a small area; the pollen travels miles in the air. "Weed eradication to be successful will ultimately have to be state-and-nation-wide," says the foundation, and even then it must be remembered that ragweed seed may lie dormant for 20 years and then spring back to life.

ALL CASES SERIOUS

The first thing to remember, the foundation says, is that hay fever and all allergies are serious and each case is individual. A physician should be consulted first.

Several forms of temporary relief are available. These include air conditioning, injection, antihistamines, eye drops and hormone drugs. These should be used only under medical direction.

For the future, further advances in controlling allergies can come only from research. Diagnosis and therapy have come a long way, but much remains to be done.

Studying Equipment For Trip To Mars

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Douglas Aircraft Co., under a space agency contract, is studying what equipment 10 men will need on a three-year spaceship roundtrip to Mars between 1975 and 1985.

The study includes determination of the most favorable launching date for the 300-billion-mile journey, the amount of payload that will be possible and choice of the proper course.

Under a separate study, Lockheed Aircraft is investigating the type of re-entry vehicle which will be needed to return the Mars voyagers safely to earth. The vehicle must be designed to survive re-entry heating of 35,000 Fahrenheit and speed of 44,000 miles an hour.

The Bald Cypress was designated the state tree of Louisiana by an act of the 1963 legislature.

People In The News

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Steve Allen says he is ending his nightly syndicated television production, "The Steve Allen Show," effective Oct. 23.

The actor said Tuesday that Westinghouse Broadcasting Corp. had released him from his contract so he could devote full time to his role as host of the weekly "I've Got a Secret" program on CBS-TV.

Allen has been commuting between New York and Hollywood to tape the shows. "It was just too much," said a spokesman for the actor.

ATHENS, (AP) — Queen Mother Frederika of Greece is going to get a government pension of $100,000 a year, the newspaper Vima said today.

Palace officials declined to comment on the report, which quoted government sources. Frederika's husband, King Paul, died last March. Their son, Constantine, now is king.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Actor John Wayne, 57, is being treated at Good Samaritan Hospital in Los Angeles for an ankle injury and a respiratory ailment, his secretary says.

The secretary, Mary St. John, said Tuesday Wayne underwent surgery to correct an old ankle injury last Wednesday. He developed an allergy "to something he had taken" and it caused an abscess on one lung, she said.

"They removed it (the abscess) Monday, and it relieved the pressure on his chest," she said. "He was very uncomfortable over the weekend, but now he feels fine."

Mrs. St. John said she didn't know how long Wayne would be in the hospital.

COLUMBUS, Ohio. (AP) — Members of the Lockbourne Air Force Base information office, who recently took a Third Grade class from Jefferson Elementary School, Gahanna, Ohio, on a base tour, said this was one of the thank-you notes:

"Thank you for driving the bus. If it wasn't for you we would have walked. When you told me the hangars hold eight jets, I didn't believe you for a minute. Your friend . . ."

May Sue Cops, Not For $10 Fine, But Because Of Treatment Received

LITCHFIELD, Minn. (AP) — Sylvan Millerbernd, 29, a farmer, is thinking about hiring a lawyer about that matter of a $10 traffic ticket.

It wasn't the ticket that irked him. It was what happened after he paid it.

Millerbernd, of Cosmos, Minn., was taken in a State Highway Patrol car 150 miles and jailed at Rochester for allegedly ignoring a traffic ticket issued in June. He paid it by mail Aug. 26.

Somehow his name wasn't checked off the patrol's warrant list.

He was arrested Sunday night at his home, where friends and neighbors were visiting, he said, and whisked away despite his protests. A relay of six patrolmen took him to Rochester.

LIKE A CRIMINAL

"They treated me like a criminal," he said.

Worse yet, Millerbernd said the ticket had been instrumental in ruining a $1,000 engine and putting him out of the trucking business. He was given the ticket for having insufficient brakes on a pickup truck for towing a disabled semitractor. Driving the tractor home ruined the motor, he contends.

Millerbernd said he wasn't offered a ride back from Rochester, so he hitchhiked the 150 miles back home, letting off steam on the way.

Liamport, Pa., loaf of Stroehmann's Sunbeam bread.

Sunshine Biscuit Co., Harrisburg, Pa., package of Sunshine Crispy crackers.

Utz Potato Chip Co., Inc., Hanover, Pa., package of Utz potato chips.

Major Rail Merger Creates Network To Link Missouri Valley To Seaboard

By ROGER LANE
NEW YORK (AP)—A mighty new railroad empire nearly four years in the making will link the Missouri Valley to the East Coast next month.

Its formal creation under sponsorship of the Norfolk & Western Railway will mark a giant step toward reorganization of the nation's rail network into perhaps a dozen regional systems.

The greater Norfolk & Western, bearing an 11th-hour hitch, will begin taking shape Oct. 16 under a consolidation plan involving five other roads.

78,000 MILES OF TRACK

Combined, the tracks will sprawl 7,800 miles through 14 states and cross into Canada near Buffalo, N.Y.

On the west, the tracks will link Omaha, Neb.; Kansas City, Mo.; St. Louis, Mo.; Des Moines, Iowa; Chicago, and other cities to the bustling Atlantic Coast port of Norfolk, Va., on the far side of the rich Pocahontas coal country.

Hinged on the present N&W, a thriving coal-hauling line, the new system is expected to generate annual revenues of around $550 million. This would put it seventh among American railroads, although in it will not place among the top 10 in mileage.

WILL LEAD OTHERS

As a moneymaker, it would rank at or near the head of the 100 major railroads. Assets will total $1.9 billion.

Joined with the N&W will be the Wabash and Nickel Plate railroads, both major properties, along with the 110-mile Sandusky (Ohio) line of the Pennsylvania Railroad, the 171-mile Akron, Canton & Youngstown Railroad and the 132-mile Pittsburgh & West Virginia Railway.

The track for completing the merger was cleared last week when the Pennsylvania Railroad pledged to divest itself of 31.3 per cent of N&W voting stock.

Stuart T. Saunders, Pennsylvania chairman since last Oct. 1 — and prior to that architect of the merger as president of the N&W — called the pledge an "act of faith."

PENNSY AGREES

The Interstate Commerce Commission had conditioned approval of the N&W expansion program on divestiture by the Pennsylvania of N&W and Wabash securities totaling more than $400 million.

Earlier, the Pennsy had refused to give up its holdings pending ICC approval of a proposed merger of the Pennsy and the New York Central Railroad. Persistent Pennsy refusal, railroad analysts agreed, would have torpedoed the vision nurtured by leading rail executives, of three competitively balanced regional rail systems in the East where several roads have suffered heavy losses in recent years.

The third system started taking shape last year when the Chesapeake & Ohio Railway was authorized to control the then-ailing Baltimore & Ohio.

STOCK TRANSFER

Under a plan jointly announced with the N&W, 800,000 N&W shares held by the Pennsy — about one-third of the Pennsy's total holding — will be transferred to the N&W in 80,000-share installments over the next 10 years.

The Pennsy in return will receive new N&W 4 5/8 per cent debentures convertible after three years into common at $130 a share — but only by holders other than the Pennsy.

NICKEL PLATE EXCHANGE

The merger plan calls for issuance to Nickel Plate holders of 45 of a share of N&W common for each share of Nickel Plate.

Next, the combined N&W-Nickel Plate would lease, and eventually acquire, the Wabash. The Sandusky line would come into the system on a straight purchase for $27 million.

The Akron, Canton & Youngstown likewise would be purchased, and the Pittsburgh & West Virginia leased in perpetuity.

Pretax merger savings were estimated by the N&W at $27 million annually after five years.

In negotiations leading up to the ICC approval, the N&W promised that if its merger plan went through it would study possible affiliation with the money-losing Erie-Lackawanna Railroad.

GOV. SCRANTON TELLS GOP TO STICK BY PARTY

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Gov. William Scranton of Pennsylvania pleaded with Republicans to stick by their party Tuesday night and coupled it with a stinging attack on the Johnson administration.

Concluding a two-day campaign swing into Iowa and Minnesota, Scranton called for cohesion of the party, even though some may disagree with certain views of the GOP presidential nominee, Sen. Barry Goldwater.

PRaises GOLDWATER

He cited Goldwater's "courage and honesty" and praised him for taking stands on contentious issues.

The governor spoke at a dinner rally in behalf of Rep. Clark MacGregor, R-Minn. Earlier in the day, he made several stops in Rochester, St. Cloud and St. Paul and Minneapolis, plugging support of local and national candidates.

Scranton postponed plans to go back to Harrisburg, Pa., Tuesday night because of poor weather. He stayed in Minneapolis and was expected to return to Pennsylvania some time this afternoon.

ASSAILS JOHNSON

He accused President Johnson of "wheeler-dealer government" at home and setbacks in the nation's foreign policy.

"Legislative victories for the administration," he said, "have become little more than trinkets to be attached to the trophy belt along with the stereo sets, the cancelled checks, and the other doodads of wheeler-dealer government."

"He asks us to continue him in office as though he were seeking re-election. But he isn't. The Johnson administration is no longer the Kennedy Administration—and it never was. The Johnson administration has washed away the last vestiges of the style and grace that a new generation of Americans forged in the 1960 elections."

It is "sheer poppycock" to think that the Democratic party offers the voters a progressive political party, Scranton said. He said the ticket of Johnson and vice presidential candidate Sen. Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota was a political alliance of diametrically opposed points of view.

Use Bulldozers On Forest Fire

WILKES-BARRE, Pa. (AP)—Firefighters and bulldozers were pressed into operation Tuesday night to help contain a fire which has burned over more than 500 acres of woodland in nearby Plains Township.

The fire, which has been smoldering since Sunday, threatened several homes in the area Tuesday night when it broke out as a spectacular blaze. It was contained by the firefighters.

Coach Al Schoendienst of the St. Louis Cardinals played 2,216 major league games. He compiled a .289 batting average.

James MARLOW Reports

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON (AP)—It should be assumed that the two major political parties would pick presidential candidates who are prudent, responsible and restrained and that this can be taken for granted.

But both President Johnson and Sen. Barry Goldwater are spending a lot of time assuring the country they are very prudent, indeed, without dwelling on that particular word.

Johnson in this campaign, one of the strangest of the century and about as nonintellectual as any in memory, has been stressing his sense of restraint and responsibility. So has Goldwater, who calls himself a "peacemaker."

TO POINT DIFFERENCES

The campaign took this turn because Goldwater apparently thinks it necessary to protest how different he is from how he says repeatedly he has been pictured.

Johnson apparently thinks it good politics to take advantage of Goldwater's self-consciousness.

The President keeps emphasizing the need for restraint and responsibility in the presidency without mentioning by name the Goldwater picture that Goldwater wants to get rid of.

Oddly enough, Goldwater can't blame the Democrats alone for painting this picture, although they're doing their best to keep it in public view.

Last month, at a unity meeting with other Republicans, including former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, Goldwater said:

"The No. 1 problem facing the nation... in this election... is the totally wrong view our opponents will try to din into the minds of every American voter—that the election of a Republican president will somehow lead to war."

"We will hear over and over again until November such words as 'impulsive,' 'trigger-happy,' 'imprudent,' 'hip-shooting,' and the like."

MAINLY FROM GOP

"I wonder if the really 'impulsive' and 'imprudent' president isn't the one who is so indecisive and vacillating that he has no policy at all—with the result that potential aggressors are prompted to move because they know we have no policy at all."

But a reporter said to Goldwater:

satisfied these Republicans on these points?" Goldwater replied: "Oh, during the course of a primary campaign many of us use language we later wish we hadn't. I recognize it, however, as a major problem on my part."

"POLITICAL LIE"

Then he accused Johnson of being "impulsive" by telling naval commanders, when American ships were attacked in the Gulf of Tonkin, "to use any weapons necessary."

Goldwater has repeatedly used this statement: "Some critics try to make it appear that we are preoccupied by war or are eager for war. There is no greater political lie. We are preoccupied by peace."

But in his very repetition, in trying to blot out the picture he says his critics created, Goldwater is keeping it alive.

He did it again as recently as Tuesday night in his televised interview with Eisenhower when he complained "my opponents" are referring to him and his vice-presidential running mate, Rep. William E. Miller as "warmongers."

MAY CHANGE STRATEGY

Johnson, now that he has decided to campaign in earnest, may be abandoning his rather oblique attempt to contrast himself with Goldwater by talking of his own "restraint."

his country to build a house instead of a raving, ranting demagogue who wants to tear one down." Later the White House wanted reporters to change "demagogue" to "demagogues"—a change which might indicate Johnson had no one person in mind—but later let reporters quote Johnson as saying "demagogue" in the singular.

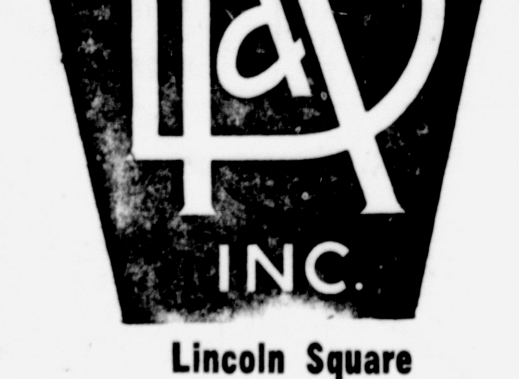

Coach Al Wudnar of the Philadelphia Phils began his pitching career with Canton, Ohio in the Mid-Atlantic League in 1942.

Coach Verlon Lee Walker of the Chicago Cubs broke in as a catcher with Lumberton of the Tobacco State League in 1948.

Nobel Peace Winner Begins Second Five-Year-Period Of Enforced Confinement

EDITOR'S NOTE: You might expect the wife of a Nobel Peace Prize winner to be taking life easy amid the admiration of her fellow countrymen. But it's not like that for Nokukanya Luthuli. Here is a rare interview with the wife of the famous Zulu nationalist who is restricted to his village by the South African government.

By DENNIS LEE ROYAL
MANZINI, Swaziland (AP) — Nearly three years ago in the presence of King Olav of Norway and a host of European socialites, she watched her aging African husband honored with the Nobel Peace prize.

Today the portly wife of former Zulu chief Albert Luthuli spends much of her time sorting beans on her small farm in the Manzini district of Swaziland, while her husband starts a second five-year period of enforced confinement in neighboring South Africa.

The banning order, imposed by South Africa's Minister of Justice Balthazar Vorster, restricts the one-time African nationalist leader to a tiny world of tin shack communities in the sugar growing region of Grootville, 40 miles from the bustling South African playground of Durban.

To maintain their Swaziland smallholding as a profitable concern, Mrs. Luthuli must spend many months of each year separated from her restricted husband and her Grootville home.

A HILL OF BEANS

Mrs. Luthuli is the mother of four daughters and three sons. Her Christian name—Nokukanya—means in Zulu, Bringer of Light.

A shrewd businesswoman, her conversation is laced with sparkling humor.

She gives a good-natured nod in the direction of race segregated South Africa. "I'm doing a little segregating myself," she laughs, pointing to a pile of beans covering the kitchen tabletop in her two-room Swaziland cottage.

"I'm sorting the black and colored beans from the white." A youthful 59 and a deeply religious woman, Mrs. Luthuli does much of the planting, harvesting and marketing of her vegetable crop. Four Swazi workers keep things in order when she periodically returns across the border to her banned husband.

"Albert would like it here but he'll never visit the farm. He'll never be free again and he'll die a banned person—only the grave will bring him freedom," she says.

AND HIS WORLD

Meanwhile in his small, restricted world, 400 miles away on the humid Indian Ocean coast, Luthuli does much the same type of work—supervising the growing of sugar cane or checking the stock of his tumbledown general store in the Grootville Zulu reservation where he is confined.

Luthuli's first banning order expired May 24 but was promptly renewed and revised by Minister Vorster. The new order restricts the Zulu leader to a much smaller area, virtually isolating him from any contact with the outside world.

COULD BE WORSE

"The new sentence is much harsher but it is better than we expected," says Mrs. Luthuli as she sorts her beans.

"We expected something far worse—even prison. Now Albert's world is reduced to nearly nothing, just a few miles of sugar cane and a handful of people. He knows that the South African government will never forgive his past political activities. Perhaps if he promised to be a good boy in the future and forget his multi-racial ideas—perhaps then he'd be freed. But this is not the Chief Luthuli I know—he's a proud man—he's a Zulu."

Asked if she thought Albert might try to join her on the Swaziland farm, she replies: "He'll never run away from trouble. South Africa is his home. He loves that country although he realizes that the rest of his life may be spent in confinement."

BETTER BEAN PRICE

"You know where I sell my beans? South Africa—I get a better price there. That's why I'm hand sorting them so carefully. They must be top quality whites," she grins. "Just a few color reds and black ones mixed with them and I'd be in trouble."

Then hurriedly she adds, "I'm not being political—in fact I'm neutral. I must be, otherwise I may find myself in the same soup as Albert."

"Sometimes, when it's dark and I'm alone here, I dream about that wonderful trip to Oslo and the kindness of King Olav. We could have stayed there forever, but Albert promised the South African government to return—he is a man of his word."

HEART TROUBLE

Mrs. Luthuli said that after his heart trouble 10 years ago, her husband quieted down considerably, spending much of his leisure time reading and writing. But sometimes he was up all night—yet ready to start a 10-hour day working on the sugar plantation.

"The big disappointments and frustrations don't seem to worry him now. It's the small things—the lost book or letter—which really makes him mad, then he'll

'BOY OF YEAR' CREDITS MOM FOR TOP TITLE

By VIVIAN BROWN
The Associate Press

What does it take to be the 1964 Boy of the Year?

Mother's help, says the owner of the title, 16-year-old sophomore Michael Rapinchuk of Phoenix, Ariz. And he's no goody-goody.

It was mother who thought of the Boys' Clubs when she tried to figure how she could hold a job and still know where her fatherless son was after school. And it was mother who gave the handsome 6-footer the best advice he'd ever got: If you become a good public speaker, your success is more or less assured.

He took her pearls of wisdom from there.

"I needed a scholarship to attend Brophy College Preparatory School but it was to be based on public speaking. Mom said I could do it, and she did such a fine job of training me that I won," he says proudly.

She's go over Michael's speech, diction, presentation and stance each night after she came home from her advertising job.

AFRAID TO SPEAK

Three weeks ago when he exploded like thunder," she laughs. "I couldn't wish for a better husband. In our small world in South Africa we can't afford to quarrel and we've learned to accept the injustices of others."

By African standards the Luthulis are wealthy, living a reasonably comfortable, yet spartan life. Their children have studied medicine and law.

FREE TO TRAVEL

Much of the $43,000 Nobel prize money remains intact, carefully invested to provide them with a regular income.

The South African government continues to allow Mrs. Luthuli freedom of travel. She has her own passport and spends as many months as she wishes in the British protectorate of Swaziland, tending the farm and visiting relatives.

As the wife of South Africa's best known banned leader, she tries, as her name implies, to bring light into the dark restricted life of Albert Luthuli.

And as his world shrinks and she drifts toward semiobscurity amid the towering sugar canes, Mrs. Luthuli becomes his only real link with the outside world—a world which his wife fears ex-Chief Luthuli may never see again.

spoke before the Arizona Senate as that state's representative in the finals of the Boy's Club competition, no one would have suspected that just a couple of years ago he was afraid to meet people, much less speak before a group. He was so good, the House invited him to speak.

True, he gets nervous. But Mom had an answer for that, he says. "She explained when you get real nervous, it stimulates your system, so you speak even better."

Michael will speak at the drop of a gavel now, and has even sought drama experience. He performs with a children's theater, and helps backstage. Though his selection as Boy of the Year by the Boys' Clubs of America is based on service to home, church, school and community, Michael is an all-around type on golf course, in swimming pool or when mountain climbing or skin diving. We won the Pacific Junior Underwater Spearfishing Championship, studies judo, is an excellent basketball player and chess player.

JOINED IN 1957

He and other boys began a survival and rescue program in mountain climbing "because so many people panic on a mountain." He was chosen to attend the officers' academy at Camp Carson, Colorado, one of the best mountain climbing schools in the world, and now instructs and trains small groups of climbers.

Michael joined the Phoenix Boys' Club in 1957, one of the 635 Boys' Clubs of America with 600,000 members. The $1,000 grant he was awarded is made with the idea of furthering juvenile decency by stimulating interest in higher education, community service and humanities.

FIND NEW FATHER'S

"The clubs are wonderful in particular for boys like me who do not have fathers," Michael says. "People who work there take over part of a father's job, and it is another home for a boy with a working mother, a good place to keep out of trouble, offering sports and recreation you couldn't afford otherwise."

LOVES PEOPLE

The dues are $1 a year. Boys in this generation are misunderstood, he says, because of sensational headlines applying to a few—less than five percent of the nation's boys.

"There should be more emphasis on the good that young people do with community projects, and so on, but we don't hear much about it," he says. He'd like to major in psychology in college, he thinks, to help people who have problems, a reason elaborated on by his mother: "Michael's outstanding characteristic is his love for people of all ages, his lack of concern with their shortcomings, and his interest only in their good."

As for girls—and he does have some—he's not sure what they

Theater Group Bans Box Office

NEW YORK (AP) — A theater without a boxoffice is planned here by a producing trio who hope thereby to encourage show-going by more people.

The group, called Independent Theater Productions, has rented a 450-seat auditorium on East Broadway, a thoroughfare on the Lower East Side. In addition to free performances, the project plans to emphasize cast integration.

The sponsoring three, Anton Agabato, Dan Greene and August DePierre, plan to stage a new show every two months.

will say when they find out about his new title. It could go one way or the other, he says, grinning.

"But I don't go steady, anyway," he says.

Long Wait To Eat Creole Food Whets Appetite, Ruins Humor

By SID MOODY
The Associated Press

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — You can gorge like Henry VIII in New Orleans if you'll remember a slightly fractured aphorism: They also will be served who stand and wait.

The sidewalks outside the great restaurants of the French Quarter are crammed with people waiting for the diners inside to stop dawdling over their exotic Creole and French dinners, pay up and get out. Then they move in and dawdle over their dinners. And so on and so on until the last man on the sidewalk, raving with hunger by then, reaches the door only to find the headwaiter politely closing it for the night.

MAY AWAIT BREAKFAST

You can then go home unfed to dream restlessly of oysters Rockefeller or stay in line all night and be first in for lunch on the morrow and dawdle spitefully and at last long over your own chocolate mousse and brandy.

The long wait is good for the appetite, bad for the disposition. The other evening a middle-aged couple showed up outside Antoine's about 7 p.m., the time they'd normally be sitting down for dinner back home in Des Moines. Only the restaurant was jammed to overflowing with people who were either dining on New York time or who had given up the afternoon steamboat tour of the river front to stand in line at 3 o'clock.

VETERAN PREPARED

A veteran diner — that's any one who's spent at least one night starving on the pavement outside Gallatoire's — has prepared himself with a dozen oysters at the Acme Oyster Bar where you eat 'em standing up as fast as the man behind the bar can shuck 'em. It's best to bring along the afternoon paper, too. It's hard to read in the flickering gaslight but the only other literature is Antoine's menu pasted on the window beckoning like the serpent in the Garden of Eden. It's bad enough to never reach the forbidden fruit. It's maddening to read about it while you stand motionlessly in line.

Some binding friendships have been made standing in line. Couples from Seattle find the couple ahead from Baltimore knows some one's cousin in Tulsa and they all insist on dining together — if they ever get in. Better yet, they may drop out of line to go celebrate over a drink at the Absinthe House. That means you're four places nearer that pompano amandine inside.

LASTING HATREDS

But it can make fast friends, restaurant-waiting can also produce lasting hatreds. That couple from Des Moines, for instance. For a half hour the Mrs. glared venomously at those who blithely bypassed the line and strode inside the door.

"Look, look, Harry, they're going right inside. Do something!" she elbowed her mate. "Probably have reservations," said Harry who lit a cigarette, his third, and muttered something about Antoine's not closing until nine.

"Wonder what time they serve breakfast?" mused a young man to his date from somewhere back in the phalanx. Mrs. Des Moines poleaxed him with a malevolent stare.

Occasionally well-fed revellers emerged through the frosted glass doors, redolent with scents of shrimp marguery and Pouilly '59. But no one was invited into the inner sanctum by the door-keeper to take their places.

Then a cab would sweep to the curb and a couple would hop out and dash inside.

"They're my second cousins," the manager grinned as he closed the doors behind him. The line didn't share the humor. The strong ground their teeth angrily. The weak fingered gloves and tried to remember what they'd had for lunch.

As Napoleon said, an army, even if only tourists, surely travels on its stomach.

TWO DINNERS

Of course you can beat the game by having dinner at a lunch counter before you go out for your REAL dinner. By the time you sweat out the line you'll be hungry again.

At Brennan's, they do things differently. There the maitre d' takes your name. "There's an hour and a half wait," he says. Would you like to wait in Brennan's patio in the meanwhile? You take a seat and order a drink. An illuminated fountain plays at one end of the open courtyard. Dim lights glow through the palms and tropical plants. The moon is coming up over a garret above the fountains. Surely there's a bearded poet within writing of his love. You order another drink. And another. Drowned in atmosphere, you forget why you're there.

"Gee, I'm hungry," you say to your companion. "Let's go eat."

"Good idea."

You walk out past the chicken rochambeau, the tournedo royal,

A Lovelier You

By MARY SUE MILLER

SNEAKY WEIGHT. Excess pounds have a way of creeping up on some women. The increase is so gradual that it is scarcely noticed.

The gain may be as small as two pounds a year. But even at that slow pace, the slim young thing becomes a ponderous figure before she's 50. Worse, the overages are a threat to her health and vitality.

Suffering from this sneaky kind of weight accumulation, many women can find no reason for it. They contend that they do not overeat, and never did. But they are in error.

Weight would not increase with birthdays, if one did not overeat. The point we miss is that we need less food as the decades pass, owing to a decrease in physical activity. The calorie count that kept us slim in youth plays us false in maturity.

There has to be a cutback in calorie intake to compensate for the cut in energy output. Otherwise gains are inevitable. But, never fear, this does not mean that you have to live perpetually on a reducing diet. To maintain ideal weight in mature years, just keep an eye on your scale. A rise, however small, over a six-months' period signals the need to lower your count.

And it can be done in painless ways: With skim milk, non-calorie sweetener, whipped butter, low-cal salad dressings and the sparing use of gravies and sauces. By such ploys you stay as trim as you are.

the Montrachet '57 and head for the Acme and a dozen oysters. A voice with a vaguely familiar buzzes angrily down the counter.

"First we're locked out of Antoine's and now that man's getting his oysters before us. Harry! do something!"

NEW YORK (AP) — Pets lead, people follow.

This is part of the story of our civilization which might be missed by historians.

The trouble with having an animal in the house is that over a period of time the presentment of the people and the ambition of the animal get rather intermingled.

That's the situation in the house where I put my heart. We have a conflict there.

MOTHER NOTICED IT

"You are a born leader, Harold," my mother used to say while patting me self-confidently on my back and turning to her more necessary knitting.

"Yes, yes, my son," she murmured consolingly but absent-mindedly, "you're a natural commander of men."

Well, of course, as all mankind knows, there is a lot of truth in what she said. I am a born leader and a natural commander.

What has confused my gifts is that I have to deal with an acquired leader and an unusual commander.

GREW AND GREW

Her name is Lady Dottie and she is a cat and she has been with us for a number of years.

She started as a small, furry, squirming uncertain kitten. Then she moved insidiously into authority, as all feminine things do.

Recognizing the fact that I am a born leader, she used to rub against my leg in plaintive self-assurance. If a stranger entered our realm she would leap instantly on top of our tall, old-fashioned upright walnut desk.

Anything we set before her she humbly ate. And she grew and grew and grew.

12 MEANINGS

As her size increased so did her self-confidence. Roughly now, Lady Dottie resembles an ambulant indoor whale.

Where she used to be abashed and retreating, she now intrudes into family conversations with a

Wives In Florida Now Have It Made

CLEARWATER, Fla. (AP) — A Clearwater municipal judge has struck a blow for woman suffrage.

Edmund Adolphus Gibson, who moved to Clearwater recently from Barbados, came before Judge Owen Allbritton on a charge of assaulting his wife. He said he struck her when he came home from work and found that his wife had gone fishing.

"In America," ruled Judge Allbritton, "a wife doesn't have to work if she doesn't want to. You can't charge a wife with nonsupport in this country, although maybe you could in Barbados. She has a right to sit around and do nothing all day or go fishing if she wishes."

He gave Gibson a suspended seven-day jail term.

"I don't know whether I had a right to be a delegate or not," Beauchamp recalled. "Judge John S. Rhea named me to please my daddy."

Beauchamp next campaigned for page at the legislature. Thus was launched a political career in which he has been Logan County clerk, sheriff, Senate chief clerk, cloakroom keeper, state tax commissioner, state personnel director, rural road commissioner, lieutenant governor, agriculture commissioner and treasurer.

He has been to 14 Democratic state conventions.

PUT YOUR GAS SERVICE COSTS ON A FIXED MONTHLY BASIS

Over 92,000 gas heating customers are already using your gas company's Budget Payment Plan. They pay equal amounts each month for gas heat, as with rent and mortgage payments.

The RED ARROW on your gas bill points to the amount you will pay each month when you join this plan. It was determined from your past 12 months gas use. You pay that amount each month for 11 months. Any difference between your total annual bill and the payments made is adjusted in the 12th month.

The Budget Payment Plan starts with bills bearing a "last day to pay" date in October. If you want to take advantage of this convenient plan, just pay the budget amount the RED ARROW points to.

Watch for the RED ARROW and join your friends now using the Budget Payment Plan. Spread your gas costs evenly over the year.

VENEZUELA'S PRESIDENT TO GET TEST SOON

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — President Raul Leoni has looked pretty good saddling the broncos, but how'll he do riding them?

Many Venezuelans, wondering whether their new president is a political genius or just plain lucky, are asking this question.

A hint won't be long in coming. The Castroite guerrillas, who hold a key to stability in this country, have announced the start of a new "liberation" war. And by mid-October, culminating months of negotiation, a new coalition government will be in operation.

These two developments likely will provide critical tests to measure the big, affable Leoni. In his six months in office, nothing extraordinarily exciting or difficult has stirred his country wracked by almost continuous storms during the five years of Romulo Betancourt's incumbency.

TERRORISTS BUSY

The guerrillas still are operating in the mountains and villages of the interior, although not as spectacularly as before. Many think the terrorist bands are almost as busy as before, but that Leoni has weakened their propaganda worth by reacting more conservatively to their activities than Betancourt did.

There's nothing really exciting to Venezuelans about prosperity. By mid-1964, foreign exchange reserves were up to $836 million, a gain of $136 million over mid-1963 figures. The sum represents nearly a third of all gold and foreign exchange holdings in Latin America. On a per capita basis, these reserves are higher than those in the United States.

Political stability is essential to the preservation and stimulation of this economic expansion. This is why, since taking office in March, Leoni and his lieutenants have been busy forming a coalition to give the ruling, moderately left Accion Democratica party the congressional majority it needs to legislate without trouble. A coalition is necessary because the last general elections gave the government only 66 of 158 seats in the Chamber of Deputies and 23 of 51 in the Senate.

SEES NO CHANGE

The new political partnership with two ex-rivals, the leftist Republican Democratic Union and the centrist National Democratic Front, should be installed by mid-October.

This is the forecast of the coalition's chief architect, Interior Minister Gonzalo Barrios, who says "no dramatic national policy changes" are contemplated under the new regime.

The country's oil policy ruling out new foreign concessions will continue oriented toward eventual takeover of the giant industry that now produces nearly 93 per cent of Venezuela's $2.6 billion export earnings. The bulk of the foreign concessions expire in 1983, but there is talk that Venezuela, contemplating the slow growth of Mexico's nationalized oil industry, may attempt a new approach at operating the industry in partnership with foreign companies.

On foreign affairs, Barrios says diplomatic relations with the Soviet Union and other Iron Curtain countries are not primary issues and may be taken up later if national interest requires it. Venezuela has diplomatic ties with Yugoslavia and Poland and there's a Czech trade mission here. Rejecting relations with Moscow last December, Betancourt said a Soviet Embassy here would mean a corresponding increase in Venezuelan security forces to watch Soviet diplomats.

Writes Another Broadway Show

NEW YORK (AP)—Frank Gilroy, a prize-winning playwright two seasons ago with his first play off-Broadway, continues to be concerned with the problems of Army veterans.

"The Subject Was Roses," a new work being presented at the Royale, concerns a mother, father and a son just returned from service. Gilroy's initial attention-getter, "Who'll Save the Plowboy?" was about a pair of soldiers who attempt to pick up their friendship in civilian life.

Theater Renews Prewar Prices

NEW YORK (AP)—The box-office sacre that was prevalent on Broadway 20 years ago is being tested anew at the ANTA theater, where "Blues for Mister Charlie" is on exhibit.

Says Producer Cheryl Crawford: "We hope to stimulate the interest of the great potential audience which, we are convinced, exists for theater that provokes thought as well as entertainment."

The scale, for both matinee and evening performances, ranges top for most dramas is $6.90 on weekdays, $7.50 on the weekend.

EXPECTS DROP IN INCOME OF PA. FARMERS

HARRISBURG (AP)—Leland H. Bull, state secretary of agriculture, estimated today that farm income in Pennsylvania, which totaled $890 million last year, would drop six per cent below normal as a result of the current drought.

Bull said the six per cent figure was a statewide average. Farm income in the northeast section of the Commonwealth, where the drought has struck the hardest, may fall as much as 50 per cent, he said.

"They'll be a much higher percentage than normal of farmers going out of business, especially in northeast Pennsylvania," Bull told the Associated Press.

11 DROUGHT AREAS

The U.S. Department of Agriculture Wednesday designated 11 drought-stricken counties in the northeast section as emergency disaster areas. The action entitles farmers to receive feed grains from the Commodity Credit Corp. at reduced prices.

The counties are Bradford, Columbia, Lackawanna, Luzerne, Monroe, Pike, Sullivan, Susquehanna, Tioga, Wayne and Wyoming.

Bull said the dairy farmer and livestock producer has suffered greatly as a result of the drought, which for three straight summers has plagued all or part of Pennsylvania.

SHORT HAY CROP

Most farmers in the northeast harvested only one-half of a hay crop this summer whereas they normally harvest three, the agriculture secretary noted. The purchasing of feed grains, even at reduced prices, will put many farmers out of business, he said.

Bull estimated that the potato yield in the northeast at 30 to 50 per cent below normal.

Turning to south central Pennsylvania, Bull said that apples lacked sufficient moisture and were not sizing and coloring normally, but the problem was nowhere near as critical as in the northeast.

DROUGHT AND FIRES

In notifying Gov. Scranton of the federal government's action alleviating the plight of the 11 counties, U.S. Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman said the emergency aid period would end next June 30.

All but three of the counties—Columbia, Monroe and Pike—al-

BODY FOUND; ASK AUTOPSY

CANADENSIS, Pa. (AP)—Authorities ordered an autopsy Wednesday on the body of a man police identified as Charles P. McCulley, 74, of De Land, Fla.

McCulley, who had been missing since Sept. 7, was discovered Tuesday night by Charles Daniels, a nearby camp owner, in a wooded area in Buck Hill Falls, Pa.

State police said Wednesday they made the identification of the badly decomposed body after a search party found the dead man's clothes, cards and personal papers about 162 feet from where his body was first seen.

McCulley reportedly came to the Pocono Mountain area to watch the lawn bowling tournament in Buck Hill.

Coach Mel Wright of the Chicago Cubs compiled a 2-4 record while appearing in 58 major league games between 1953 and 1961.

ready had been granted hay and grazing privileges on acreage diverted to the nation's land retirement program.

The drought in Pennsylvania has not only had its adverse effects on the farmer.

Sixteen communities have dipped into emergency water supplies, and state health officials believe the number may rise unless there is considerable rainfall soon.

Hundreds of brush fires have occurred over Pennsylvania, prompting the Forests and Waters Department to ban all outdoor fires in state parks.

HIGH SPEED RAIL SERVICE POSSIBLE SOON

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—High-speed rail service between Washington and New York is possible within a few years, according to Pennsylvania Railroad chairman Stuart T. Saunders.

Saunders, in an address Wednesday night to a group of 360 business and professional executives at the Franklin Institute, said 125-mile-an-hour schedules could be initiated within that time, "if the project proceeds promptly."

Saunders told the audience that the PRR will spend $9 million in 1964 to upgrade Washington-Philadelphia-New York passenger service.

ABOUT 125 MI. H. The PRR will also cooperate fully with the department of commerce in developing a high speed link between Boston and Washington, Saunders said. Trains would run on schedules of from 125 to 150 miles an hour.

Saunders pointed out that the Washington-New York line could be completed "years ahead" of the Boston-New York segment because of "far greater engineering problems on the latter."

Turning his attention to another subject, the PRR chairman said the railroad is interested in urban renewal and industrial development.

NOT A DOUGHNUT

"We cannot simply afford to let our metropolitan complex become a doughnut, with all the dough in the suburbs and only a hole in the center," he said.

"The Pennsylvania," Saunders continued, "is combating this 'doughnut effect' with the development of Penn Center, which has become a distinctive demonstration of the new vitality of our city."

"More than $100 million has been invested in five office buildings, two high-rise apartment houses, a large hotel, shops and parking facilities."

Individual Rescue Capsules Planned

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP)—If a manned space station orbiting the earth suddenly is swept by a catastrophic fire, how does the crew escape?

Do the astronauts leap from the burning craft and rely on their space suits for protection until help arrives from earth? Do they eject individually or in groups in space "lifeboats?" Should the "lifeboats" be built to return to earth or to remain in orbit until a rescue vehicle is launched from earth?

The answers are being sought in a number of U.S. space research laboratories. Present thinking favors individual escape capsules which can return to earth.

Work On Protection Of Eyes From Flash

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP)—The Air Force reports promising results in experiments to develop a chemical which can be spread on airplane and spacecraft windows to protect the eyes of pilots and astronauts from the potentially damaging flash of a nuclear explosion.

Maj. Gen. Marvin D. Demler of the Research and Technology Division said the material under study is "an optical shutter based on an enzyme-dye combination which can repeatedly change from colorless to colored in less than 50 microseconds under the influence of ultraviolet light, and rapidly revert to the colorless state when the light source is removed."

NEW DELHI (AP)—Thirty-seven babies are born every minute in India. The high birth rate and longer life expectancy result in a net annual increase of more than 10 million in India's population of 465 million.

By the end of this year, Penn Center will house some 15,000 workers in about two million square feet of office space."

Saunders also cited plans to develop 88 acres of air rights over the PRR's yards in the 30th Street station area.

LOANS OKAYED FOR PROJECTS IN THIS STATE

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Urban Renewal Administration and the Community Facilities Administration have approved several loans to assist projects in Pennsylvania.

A $113,024 loan was approved by the Urban Renewal Administration to help Lewistown plan its East Market Street urban renewal project. At the same time Wednesday, it was announced that the administration reserved a $2,509,000 grant for work on the project.

The Community Facilities Administration approved an $11,853 loan to help East Cocalico Township, Lancaster County, Pa., plan sewer facilities to cost $1,005,000.

The Urban Renewal Administration approved loans for three other Pennsylvania projects. They are:

Norristown — $67,831 to plan its Saw Mill Run Urban Renewal project. A $500,000 grant for the project has been reserved.

Royersford — $77,630 to plan its 14-acre central business district urban renewal project. An $882,000 grant has been reserved.

Mill Hill — $45,000 to plan its Water Street urban renewal project. Reserved for the project is a $166,000 grant.

MORE REVIEWS GIVEN ON NEW CROP OF SHOWS

By MARY CAMPBELL

NEW YORK (AP) — A married couple, pretending not to be, is the situation. And two veterans of domestic situation comedies — Cara Williams, lately wife in "Pete and Gladys" and Frank Aletter, onetime bachelor Buddy Flower — launched another of the same Wednesday night on CBS.

Their boss is against his office employees marrying each other, hence the great deception of "The Cara Williams Show." In the first episode, Miss Williams, a not-so-bright secretary, lets slip that she has a husband, quickly elaborates that he's in the cloak and dagger business, in fact is a member of the CIA.

TASTE IN DOUBT

Secretary and jazzy-talking neighbor, pretending to be husband, visit the boss in the evening, get caught there without gasoline during a rainstorm and are sent to the guest room for the night. Real husband arrives, providing transportation. Boss remains galled.

Some lines are very funny, but taste occasionally slips toward the borderline. CBS also had an hour-long special Wednesday night, "The Presidency: A Splendid Misery."

SOLID HISTORY LESSON

It was a solid civics-history lesson, interesting but not terribly exciting. Six actors and a narrator, using a desk and few other props, recited some of the words our presidents have spoken and written about their jobs. The show began with Washington's statement that on assuming the presidency he felt like a man on the way to the gallows and Harding's that the White House is a jail and the president a prisoner.

Format of the program was to examine the federal balance of power, its worth and its ability to frustrate a chief executive — presidents battling Congress and presidents battling the Supreme Court; presidential powers granted and assumed from the Constitution; power over the military, and the often wearisome power to fill appointive office.

Most of the words quoted were from presidents early in our nation's history — Washington, Jefferson, John Quincy Adams, Jackson, Lincoln.

SOME HUMOR TOO

As might be expected, some of Lincoln's remarks were used for comedy relief. About the bother of constant office seekers, he said, when he had contracted a mild case of smallpox, "Now I have something I can give everyone."

At the end narrator Fredric March noted that though presidents complain about the burdens of office, Americans are fortunate that there still are good men willing to endure the presidency. Not a highly original remark, it is true, but very comforting.

BLAME PILOT FOR CRASH OF LIGHT PLANE

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Civil Aeronautics Board report has attributed a former Pennsylvania cabinet member's death in the crash of his light plane last August to his poor judgment in trying to fly in bad weather.

Roy Schaefer, 37, former president of the Young Democratic Clubs of America and a member of the cabinet of former governor David L. Lawrence, was killed on a flight from Pittsburgh to Harrisburg. Schaefer's brother-in-law, Philip Ashear, Pittsburgh radio engineer, was injured seriously but survived.

PRINCIPAL CAUSES

The CAB said the accident was the result of:

1. The pilot's attempt at continued visual flight in adverse weather conditions, resulting in flight below obstructing terrain.
2. "Judgment of the pilot in initiating the flight under the existing weather conditions."

The CAB said there was no evidence to indicate engine malfunction or failure of the plane, a Cessna 172D, before crash.

HAD WARNING

The plane crashed on a mountain area about 50 miles from Pittsburgh and slightly to the right of the direct course to Harrisburg, about half an hour after takeoff, with the impact apparently occurring in a near-level flight attitude.

The CAB said that before the take-off the pilot filed a visual

MRS. CLARK TO DISPLAY HER OIL PAINTINGS

By JOSEPH R. COYNE

AP Regional Service

WASHINGTON (AP)—A life-long interest in painting by Mrs. Noel Clark, wife of Sen. Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa., will culminate next month in the first public exhibition of her work.

About 20 of her oil paintings — mainly flowers and other still life pictures; she's no fancier of abstract art — will go on display at the Washington Gallery of Art Oct. 6 through 26.

The paintings will be priced from $85 to $100.

HAS OWN STUDIO

Mrs. Clark, interviewed at the small gallery in the Georgetown section of Washington where her work will be exhibited, told of her long interest in painting and her studies at the art student's league in New York City.

She now has her own studio in her home at Philadelphia—a gift from her husband on her 50th birthday last Christmas.

But she can use that only on weekends when she and the senator are in Philadelphia.

When she is in Washington, she reserves Thursdays of each week for work in the studios of her present tutor, Pietro Lazari. She paints three or four flight plan although at a weather briefing he was advised that the mountain ridges would be obscured, that stations on the route were reporting weather below visual flight rules (VFR) minima, and that "general conditions were not suitable to expect VFR flight."

Army To Face Football Test

WEST POINT, N. Y. (AP)—Army's football team will face one of its toughest tests early this season.

After meeting Citadel and Boston College the first two games at home, the Cadets travel to Austin, Tex., to take on unbeaten Texas, No. 1 ranked team last year.

Games with Penn State, Virginia, Duke, Iowa State, Syracuse and Pitt will be held the following Saturdays. Navy will be met in Philadelphia in the 10th and final game on November 28.

No Truth To Myth About Oysters

WASHINGTON, D. C. (AP)—The belief that oysters are good to eat only during months that have an "R" is a myth, says the Department of the Interior.

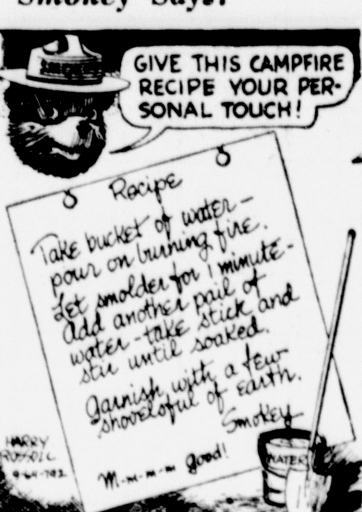

The Interior's Bureau of Commercial Fisheries says that oysters usually reach their peak of perfection in May and June—months that have no "R" in them. Oysters are fatter and taste better in spring, the Bureau says, because it's the time they begin to store glycogen, an animal starch, in preparation for the spawning season in summer.

In 1962 scheduled airlines, for the first time, carried more than 60,000,000 passengers.

In 1963 the U.S. was using some 235,900,000 radio and television sets.

About 10 of them had arrived at the gallery Wednesday and a half dozen had been hung for the exhibition. The remainder will be sent from Philadelphia in time for the Oct. 6 opening.

LITTLE BROWN JUG LURES 13

DELAWARE, Ohio (AP)—Vicar Hanover and a virus hang-over cast long shadows over the 19th Little Brown Jug harness racing classic as a field of 13 colts got ready to go for the second gem in racing's Triple Crown today.

When Race Time, the season's best among these 3-year-olds, was withdrawn last week due to a virus ailment, it became assured there will be no 1964 Triple Crown sweep — and Vicar Hanover was cast into the favorite's role here.

Fair, mild weather was in prospect and upward of 30,000 spectators were expected at the Delaware County Fairgrounds' half-mile oval this afternoon.

The Jug, at the mile distance with a $66,590 purse, was split into two divisions with the first heat, involving seven entries, going to the post at about 1:45 p.m. EST. The other six colts were grouped for the second heat.

REPORT GIVEN BY COUNCIL ON SCIENCE

HARRISBURG (AP) — The Governor's Council of Science and Technology issued a 15-page report today, aimed at accelerating the growth of scientific industries in Pennsylvania.

The document, presented to Gov. Scranton, included one proposal for creation of a 200-mile-an-hour railroad system, linking Pittsburgh, Philadelphia and New York.

"By far, the greatest lack of the eastern United States is good urban mass transit, and high speed, intercity rail transportation is totally absent," the council said in its first report since being established by Scranton in April 1963.

PROPOSE AUTHORITY

"Pennsylvania, once the headquarters of the railway industry, can be the Detroit of the transit industry," the council said.

The report proposed creation of a state authority to evolve plans for the system.

"The objective might well be to install in Pennsylvania the nation's first high speed railway before man lands on the moon."

The report was divided into two sections, dealing with attraction and expansion of scientific and technological industries and the economic potential of such industries.

AID TO COLLEGES

Among its recommendations was a 10 per cent increase in state aid to colleges such as Pennsylvania State University, the University of Pittsburgh, Temple University and the University of Pennsylvania over the next five years.

The council also recommended greater state aid for studies of technological, financial, legal and promotional problems associated with urban and suburban mass transit.

The report dealt with many aspects of human well-being through advancement of science and technology.

In the field of pollution control, the recommendations included more research on methods for detection of pollutants, more research on the effects of pollutants and an expanded education program to promote public discussion of the nature and seriousness of pollution.

TRIBE THUMBS DOWN NEW BID

CLEVELAND (AP) — "The club can be saved for Cleveland. I don't know the formula, but it can be done."

That was the latest summation offered by Gabe Paul, Cleveland Indians' general manager, after he turned down a reported $4.5-million offer Wednesday to move the Tribe from Cleveland to Oakland, Calif.

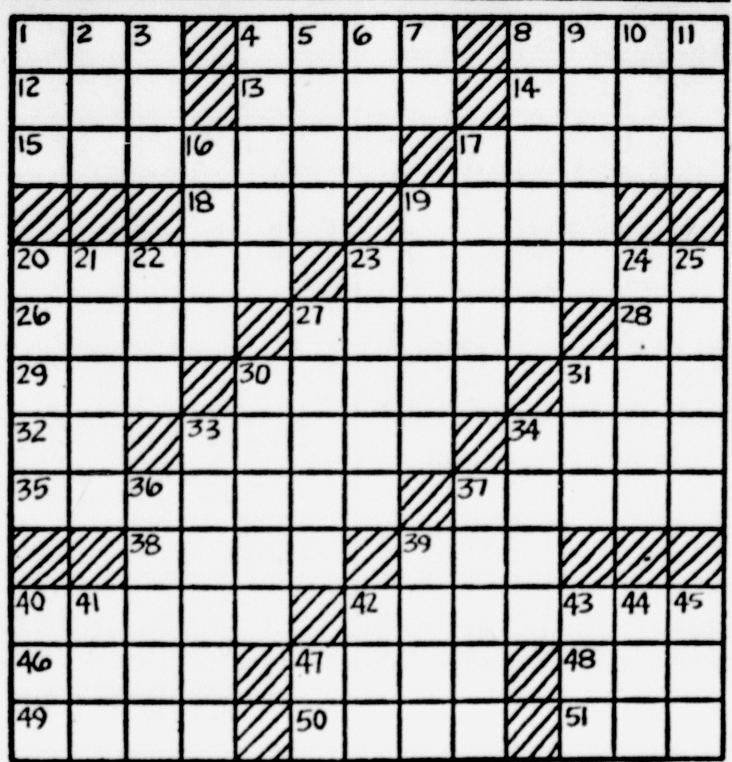

Seattle, Atlanta and Dallas also are reportedly trying to woo the Indians away from Lake Erie.

The Oakland offer came in a telegram from Jim Stockman, a hotel owner and chairman of the newly formed Oakland Baseball Corp. Paul sent a telegram refusing the offer.

Paul has said he had received fantastically attractive offers from 10 or 12 cities seeking the financially troubled Indians' franchise.

Cleveland civic leaders meanwhile, have launched a drive to sell 8,000 season tickets for the 1965 season, the same number

"Memorial" Is Fighting Word In Washington, D.C.

By MARTHA COLE

WASHINGTON (AP) — Just mention "memorial" in Washington, and the battle lines start forming before the bugle blows.

Everybody has a different idea about what it should be and where it should be. It's been that way ever since Congress and the country had a hard time deciding where the capitol city should be in the first place.

The current hassle is over a memorial to the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt, and it's been going on for two years. Quietly, though, two statues have disappeared from the east steps of the Capitol, and there's no outcry to return them.

INDIANS UNHAPPY

They made the American Indians unhappy.

One of the statues, called Rescue, portrays Daniel Boone protecting a pioneer mother and child from an Indian brandishing a tomahawk. The other, called Discovery, shows Christopher Columbus pushing aside an almost nude Indian maiden.

For years Indians have complained about "those things," said Rep. Tom Steed, D-Okla.

When the east front of the Capitol was extended in 1958,

Seattle is trying to sell.

Paul said the Tribe finished $1.2 million in the red last season and so far has lost $800,000.

the two statues were removed and the extension commission decided to let them repose in limbo a while. They're in wooden crates behind the Capitol power plant.

"THREE IN A TUB"

Many have criticized the out-of-the-way place for the women's suffrage statue in the Capitol crypt below the rotunda. It shows the busts of Lucretia Mott, Elizabeth Cady Stanton and Susan B. Anthony rising from a block of white marble. "Three women in a bathtub," it's been dubbed by wags.

Congress authorizes monuments, memorials, and fountains in Washington. In 1910 it created a permanent commission of fine arts to advise it on designs and sites.

But everybody gets in on the act.

SONS DIDN'T LIKE IT

"Instant Stonehenge" — referring to the Druid tablets of England — somebody called it. The design was scaled down and a statue of F.D.R. added.

The four sons of F.D.R. said they still didn't like it. And that's where it stands today.

The sons' words were mild to what the daughter of President Theodore Roosevelt said about various memorials proposed for her father.

One suggestion in 1961 would have made the proposed cultural center here a memorial for her father.

STATUE UNDER WAY

"The hell with the cultural center as a memorial," the 76-year-old Alice Roosevelt Longworth said of that.

A big celestial sphere on Theodore Roosevelt Island in the Potomac River? "None of this 'sanctuary of the free spirit' jargon," Mrs. Longworth said. Finally, everybody settled on a 17-foot statue of T.R. to be placed in an oval plaza on the river island, and it's under way now.

Coach Verlon Lee Walker of the Chicago Cubs broke in as a catcher with Lumberton of the Tobacco State League in 1948.

Goulet To Back Veteran Story

NEW YORK (AP)—Singer Robert Goulet is to be a silent backer of "One of My Loves Is Missing," a play scheduled for debut this fall on the White Way.

The comedy is being produced by Norman Rosemont, personal manager for a number of performers and will carry the emblem of Rogo Productions, a company owned by Rosemont and Goulet.

James Smithson, an English scientist, bequeathed his entire fortune to the U.S., thus the Smithsonian Institution was founded.
